WALT JOCKETTY
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT / GENERAL MANAGER

Walt Jocketty was named the Cardinals' Vice President/General Manager on Oct. 14, 1994. In November 2000 he was promoted to his current position of Senior Vice President. On February 2, 2005 he agreed to a three-year contract extension, through 2007, making him the longest tenured general manager in club history; on September 22, 2006 the Cardinals announced they had excercised an option that will keep him with the team through 2008. He is entering his 33rd season in professional baseball and is currently the third longest tenured Major League general manager.

Jocketty, 56, fine-tuned the 2006 team's roster and saw his team bring home St. Louis' 10th World Championship. His free agent signings prior to the season of pitcher Braden Looper, infielder Aaron Miles and outfielder Juan Encarnacion were all keys to the team's success. The roster received a boost during the season with the addition of pitcher Jeff Weaver, second baseman Ronnie Belliard and outfielder Preston Wilson. The 2006 National League Central Division title was the team's third-straight and the sixth in seven years.

He re-tooled the team's 40-man roster prior to the 2005 season with a trade for All-Star pitcher Mark Mulder from Oakland, the signing of free agent shortstop David Eckstein, who was the 2006 World Series MVP. After 2004, he was named Executive of the Year by the Sporting News following a season in which the Cardinals were crowned National League Champions and made their first appearance in the World Series since 1987. The Executive of the Year award was Walt's second such honor, also given the award in 2000 by both the Sporting News and Baseball America. He was also honored by the Negro League Hall of Fame with the Rube Foster Award as the Executive of the Year after the 2004 season.

Jocketty's trades and acquisitions during his tenure with the Cardinals have been key to the team's success. The club won the World Series last season, reached the World Series in 2004 and advanced to the postseason in 1996, 2000-2002 and 2005. A few of the deals he has orchastrated include an in-season trade with Colorado for three-time N.L. batting champion, seven-time Gold Glove winner and five-time All-Star Larry Walker during the 2004 season; a trade for All-Star third baseman Scott Rolen in 2002 and then orchastrating an eight-year contract with Rolen; and completing a seven-year contract with Albert Pujols in February 2004. In a busy offseason prior to the 2000 campaign, Jocketty became the first general manager in baseball history to trade for a 20-game winner and a 40-homer man in the same off-season with deals for Darryl Kile and Jim Edmonds.

Jocketty was instrumental in bringing Manager Tony La Russa to St. Louis as well as nearly a dozen new faces to the Cardinals' roster before the 1996 season. Those changes helped the club return to the postseason that year after an eight-season drought. In July 1997, he engineered a deal that brought slugger Mark McGwire to St. Louis and then put together a contract that kept McGwire in a Cardinals uniform through 2001.

Jocketty has helped build the Cardinals' future through the June amateur draft, helping to land young stars like Albert Pujols, J.D. Drew, Matt Morris and Rick Ankiel. He has continued to build the team's reserve of young talent by signing picks Yadier Molina, Anthony Reyes and Chris Lambert.

Before coming to the Cardinals, Jocketty was the Assistant General Manager/Player Personnel for the Colorado Rockies, whom he joined in 1993. Prior to that, he served 10 seasons as the Director of Baseball Administration for the Oakland A's. He served a total of 14 years with Oakland, starting in March 1980, when he was hired by Charles O. Finley as Director of Minor League Operations and Scouting, and was instrumental in overhauling the A's minor league system.

While with Oakland, Jocketty played a key role in establishing the Arizona Rookie League and the Dominican Summer League. He previously served on Major League Baseball's Operations Committee, which is responsible for negotiations between the Professional Baseball Association and Major League Baseball. He has served as a board member of the Epworth Children's Home in St. Louis. He was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame this February.

Jocketty is a native of Minneapolis, Minn., where he earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Minnesota in 1974. He and his wife, Sue, have two children, Ashley and Joey, and make their home in St. Louis County.

He also was a student manager for the Univ. of Arkansas-Little Rock men's basketball team. Upon graduation, he worked one season (1998) as the assistant minor league equipment manager for the Houston Astros.

The 33-year-old Moore is a native of Little Rock, Ark., and received his bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Arkansas - Little Rock in 1997. Moore and his wife, Aliesa, reside in St. Charles, Mo., with their son, Aiden.

JEFF MURPHY
BULLPEN CATCHER (58)

Murphy begins his 11th season as the Cardinals' bullpen catcher and 16th year in the organization. A former All-Big Eight performer at the University of Nebraska, he was the Cards' 19th-round pick in the June 1992 amateur draft. He advanced to Class-AA Arkansas before an ankle injury in 1996 finished his career.

Murphy was named to the New York-Penn League's postseason All-Star squad in 1992, his first professional season. He threw out 47 percent of the runners attempting to steal against him. The next year, he led the South Atlantic League's catchers in fielding while posting career highs with seven home runs and 47 runs batted in. After spending the 1994 and 1995 seasons at St. Petersburg, he moved to Arkansas in 1996 but appeared in just two games before injuring his ankle. He was named the Cardinals' bullpen catcher during spring training in 1997 after coming to camp as a nonroster invitee.

Born in St. Louis, the 36-year-old Murphy was raised in Las Vegas, and now resides in St. Charles, Mo. He and his wife, Leah, have a son, Hunter, and two daughters, Sadie and Lilly.

MANAGER, COACHES AND PLAYERS

ANTHONY (TONY) LA RUSSA JR. (10) — MANAGER

Tony La Russa completed his11th season as the Cardinals' manager in 2006 and led the Redibirds to a 10th World Series title - their first since 1982. With the Cardinals' title, La Russa joined Sparky Anderson as the only managers in Major League history to have won a World Series in both the American and National League. La Russa is second on the Cardinals all-time managerial wins list with 977 and he's third on the all-time wins list with 2, 297. Tony has guided the Cardinals to postseason appearances in seven of his 11 seasons with St. Louis, taking both his 2006 and 2004 teams to the World Series. He has managed the Cardinals to postseason play six times in the past seven seasons.

La Russa is one of nine managers to have skippered the Cardinals for more than four seasons. In February of 2005, Tony signed a three-year extension that will keep him in a Cardinals uniform until 2007 and a total of 12 seasons. The 12 seasons guiding the team will match Hall of Famer Red Schoendienst as the longest consecutive tenure as the skipper of the Cardinals. He and Leo Durocher are the only managers in major league history to have 500 or more wins with three different teams.

In 2005, La Russa moved into third place on the All-Time Managerial wins, list passing Joe McCarthy, Bucky Harris and Sparky Anderson to end the year with 2,214 wins. The 2005 season also marked his fourth 100 win season, leading the team to a 100-62 record, tops in the Majors. La Russa moved into second place on the Cardinals All-Time Managerial wins list with 894, passing Whitey Herzog mid-way through that year, trialing only Red Schoendienst. In 2004, the Cardinals tallied 105 victories, the most by any La Russa-managed club in his career. The 105 wins tied for the second most in Cardinals' franchise history with the 1943 and 1944 clubs and the 105-57 record was tops in the Majors in 2004. He was honored with the Negro League Museum's C.I. Taylor Award as Manager of the Year for his efforts in 2004. His 2002 Cardinals won 97 games and Tony was named the N.L. Manager of the Year by the BBWAA after guiding the team to the N.L. Central title in an emotion-filled season. He guided the team to an N.L.-leading 93 wins and a third N.L. Central co-title in 2001, and in 2000 he managed the club to 95 wins.

La Russa was hired by the Cardinals on October 23, 1995, after managing for 17 years in the American League with Oakland and Chicago. In his first N.L. season, La Russa guided the Cardinals to the 1996 Central Division title and was named Major League Manager of the Year by the Associated Press.

Regarded by his peers as one of the game's top managers, La Russa's honors include Manager of the Year recognition in five seasons, seven N.L. Central Division titles, two N.L. pennants, five A.L. Western Division titles, three A.L. pennants and two World Series championships. He served as manager of the 2005 National League All-Star team and was a coach for the N.L. All-Star team in 2003.

La Russa began his professional managing career in 1978 with Knoxville of the Class- AA Southern League before taking his first major league managing job on August 2, 1979, with the Chicago White Sox. In seven-plus seasons (1979-86) with the White Sox, La Russa quickly established his managerial acumen. In 1983, he guided Chicago to the A.L. West title and the best record in the major leagues, 99-63. He was rewarded with Manager of the Year accolades from the Sporting News, the Associated Press and the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

In 1984, La Russa's White Sox were tied for first place at the All-Star break before finishing fifth with a 74-88 record. He was relieved of his duties on June 19, 1986, and took over as the Oakland manager on July 7. In just his second full year with the A's, La Russa managed the club to an A.L. West-record 104 wins, the A.L. pennant and into the 1988 World Series. He again earned Manager of the Year honors from the BBWAA and the Sporting News. For three straight years, 1988-90, the A's led the major leagues in victories, only the 11th time in history that a team had accomplished such a feat. During that span, La Russa's A's became the first team to win three consecutive A.L. pennants since the 1976-78 New York Yankees.

In 1989, La Russa guided the Athletics to their fourth World Championship since the club moved to Oakland, sweeping the Giants in four straight games during the earthquake-interrupted Bay Bridge Series.

On July 14, 1991, La Russa became the 40th manager in major league history to win 1,000 career games. He earned a third Manager of the Year award in 1992 after steering the A's to their fourth A.L. West title in five years. He is Oakland's all-time leader in games managed (1,471) and victories (798).

The former infielder signed his first pro contract with the Kansas City Athletics on the night he graduated from high school in 1962. He made his major league debut with Kansas City just one year later. La Russa didn't return to the majors again until 1968, this time with the A's of Oakland. He went on to play parts of four seasons in Oakland before concluding his big-league playing career with Atlanta and the Chicago Cubs. Overall, his professional career spanned 16 seasons.

La Russa, the 48th manager in Cardinals history, actually was a member of the organization once previously, when he was a player-coach for the Cardinals' Triple-A New Orleans affiliate in 1977.

A graduate of Florida State University's School of Law in 1978, La Russa passed the bar exam in December 1979, making him one of only five lawyer/managers in baseball history. The other four are Monte Ward (New York Giants, Brooklyn and Providence, late 1800s), Hughie Jennings (Detroit, 1907-20, New York Giants, 1924), Miller Huggins (St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees, 1913-29) and Branch Rickey (St. Louis Browns, 1913-15, St. Louis Cardinals, 1919-25). All of La Russa's predecessors are in the Hall of Fame.

La Russa, 62, makes his off-season home in Alamo, Calif., with his wife, Elaine, and their two daughters, Bianca Tai (9/14/79) and Devon Kai (3/17/82). La Russa was born 10/4/44 in Tampa, Fla., and graduated from Jefferson High School in Tampa. He also holds a degree in industrial management from The University of South Florida in Tampa. He is the founder and chairperson of Tony La Russa's Animal Rescue Foundation (ARF) and is an active member in the Cardinals' community foundation, Cardinals Care. He teamed with author H.G. Bissinger ("Friday Night Lights") on a book titled "Three Nights in August" that was released in 2005. La Russa was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in 2006.

DAVID (DAVE) EDWIN DUNCAN (18)

PITCHING COACH

Duncan, 61, will be serving his 12th season as the Cardinals' pitching coach after being appointed to the post on October 23, 1995. This season marks his 28th as a pitching coach, matching Galen Cisco for the most all-time in the majors. His 2005 pitching staff posted the Cardinals first ERA title since 1969 and the starting staff recorded 81 wins which were the most by a Cardinals team since the beginning of Divisional play. His 2004 pitching staff finished percentage points behind Atlanta for the National League's ERA title, while the team's 3.01 bullpen ERA ranked among the league's best as did the team's 89 quality starts. In each of his first two seasons, the pitching staff set club records for strikeouts and ranked in the top six in the league in ERA.

Before joining the Cardinals, Duncan had been Oakland's pitching coach since July 1986, when he joined the A's along with manager Tony La Russa. Under Duncan's guidance, the Oakland staff ranked as one of the best in baseball, leading the American League in ERA from 1988 through 1990. In 1990, the A's had the lowest earned-run average in the majors, becoming just the second A.L. staff to do so since the inception of the DH rule in 1973.

Duncan began his coaching career in 1978 with the Cleveland Indians. In 1982, he was hired as Seattle's pitching coach, and the Mariners responded by leading the A.L. in strikeouts and finishing second in saves and shutouts. He left the Mariners in 1983 to join La Russa and the Chicago White Sox.

A former catcher, Duncan signed with the Kansas City A's in 1963 and made his major league debut in 1964. When the A's moved to Oakland, Duncan moved with them and appeared in both the 1971 and 1972 A.L. Championship Series and the 1972 World Series. Duncan concluded his playing career with two-year stints in both Cleveland (1973-74) and Baltimore (1975-76).

During his playing and coaching career, Duncan has been associated with seven Cy Young Award winners. He coached Bob Welch, Dennis Eckersley, LaMarr Hoyt and Chris Carpenter, and caught Vide Blue and Jim Hunter in Oakland, and Jim Palmer in Baltimore.

Duncan and his wife, Jeanine, have two sons, Christopher (drafted by the Cardinals as a supplemental first-round pick in the June 1999 amateur draft) and David (drafted by the New York Yankees in June 2001 draft), and make their off-season home near Table Rock Lake, Mo.

MARTIN (MARTY) LEE MASON (38)

BULLPEN COACH

Mason, 49, enters his eighth season as bullpen coach after working from 1997-1999 as the organization's Triple-A pitching coach. He begins his 22nd year as a coach in the Cardinals system, dating back to his first assignment at St. Petersburg in 1986. After two seasons there, Mason coached at Savannah in 1988, returned to St. Petersburg in 1989, then moved to Arkansas from 1990-96.

A righthanded pitcher originally signed by the New York Yankees in 1980, Mason was acquired by the Cardinals in December 1982 after playing on loan that season for the club's Springfield affiliate. While in the Yankees' system, he led the South Atlantic League with an .846 winning percentage in 1981, when he was 11-2 at Greensboro. At the Cardinals' Springfield affiliate in 1983, Mason ranked second in the Midwest League with 54 appearances and third in games finished, with 46. Mason also pitched for Arkansas and St. Petersburg. He retired after four games as a player-coach at St. Petersburg in 1986.

Mason was born April 4, 1958, in Central City, Ky. He attended Central Alabama Academy from 1975 to 1976 and Western Kentucky University from 1977 to 1980. He married the former Lynn Bradford on Feb. 22, 1986, and the couple have two daughters, Brandy Leigh and Lindsey. Mason enjoys bass fishing in his spare time. He received an Outstanding Achievement award from the St. Louis BBWAA for his work with the Cardinals relief staff in 2005.

DAVID (DAVE) LAWRENCE McKAY (39)

FIRST-BASE COACH

McKay, 57, enters his 12th season as the Cardinals' first-base coach and his 22nd season on Tony La Russa's coaching staff. McKay was La Russa's first-base coach in Oakland from 1989-95 and handled bullpen and bench coach duties for the A's beginning in 1984. In all, McKay spent 16 years as a player or coach in the Oakland system.

McKay was signed by the Minnesota Twins in 1971 and spent four seasons in the minor leagues. He broke into the majors in a big way, homering off Detroit's Vern Ruhle in his first big-league at-bat on Aug. 22, 1975. He hit safely in 21 of his first 22 major league games.

After the 1976 season, the Twins lost McKay in the expansion draft to Toronto, where McKay was the starting third baseman in the first game in Blue Jays franchise history. After splitting time between Toronto and Syracuse in 1979, McKay signed with the A's in 1980. He played for Oakland through 1982, helping the A's to the 1981 Western Division crown by batting .288 in the second half and belting a home run in the divisional playoff series against Kansas City. He spent the 1983 season in the minor leagues as a player-coach.

ROBERT (BOB) GIBSON (45)

SPECIAL INSTRUCTOR

Bob Gibson, who earned distinction as one of baseball's fiercest competitors and most dominating pitchers of all time as a Cardinal from 1959 to 1975, is in his 12th season as Cardinals special instructor. Gibson, 71, served as the Cardinals' bullpen coach in 1995. He formerly was a pitching coach under Joe Torre for the New York Mets (1981) and Atlanta Braves (1982-84).

A winner of the N.L. Cy Young Award in 1968 and 1970, Gibson also earned league MVP honors in 1968, when he set a major league record for lowest ERA (1.12) for a pitcher with 300 or more innings. That June, he pitched five shutouts, tying an N.L. record for one month.

In World Series competition, few players compared to Gibson. He pitched a record eight consecutive complete games over the course of the 1964, 1967 and 1968 Series, winning seven games. His 35 strikeouts in the 1968 Series still stand as a record, as does his single-game mark of 17 strikeouts, established in the Series opener. He also holds the career mark for most games with 10 or more strikeouts (five).

Gibson was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1981. His career totals include a team-record 251 victories and 3,117 strikeouts. He fanned more than 200 batters nine times, won nine Gold Gloves and was a nine-time N.L. All-Star. His uniform No. 45 is one of 10 retired by the Cardinals. Gibson was voted top starting pitcher on the All Busch Stadium II team in 2005.

He and his wife, Wendy, make their home in Bellevue, Neb.

ALBERT FRED (RED) SCHOENDIENST (2)

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Schoendienst has been involved in professional baseball for the past 65 seasons. He coached in St. Louis from 1961-64 under Manager Johnny Keane and in 1965 began a 12-year stint as Cardinals manager, the longest tenure in club history. He managed the Cardinals to a World Series championship in 1967 and a National League pennant in 1968. He also served as interim manager of the Redbirds in 1980 and 1990, and coached for the Oakland A's in 1977 and 1978.

As a player, Schoendienst appeared with the Cardinals in 15 seasons, mostly as their second baseman. He played in three World Series: in 1946 with the Cardinals and in 1957 and 1958 with Milwaukee. He was chosen to 10 N.L. All-Star Game squads, and in 1950 cracked a game-winning home run in the 14th inning. He also managed the National League All-Stars to victories in 1968 and 1969.

In 1989, Schoendienst was paid baseball's ultimate honor with his induction into the Hall of Fame. During his career, he collected 2,449 hits, including a league-high 200 in 1957, batted .289, and tied or led the league in fielding at his position seven times. His uniform No. 2 was retired by the Cardinals in 1996.

Schoendienst was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame on November 7, 1987. During his playing days, he also participated with the Budweiser national bowling team.

"Red" was born on February 2, 1923, at Germantown, Ill., and was married to the late Mary Schoendienst for 53 years (Sept. 20, 1947). They had four children, all of whom are married: Colleen (6/23/51), Cathleen (10/16/52), Eileen (3/19/57) and Kevin (11/3/58).

Both winners in 2005, Cardinals pitcher Chris Carpenter (left) and first baseman Albert Pujols (below) had great follow-up years as Carpenter placed third in the Cy Young voting and Pujols finished second on the National League MVP ballot.

Chris Carpenter (left) pitched 8.0 shutout innings in Game 3 of the World Series in a 5-0 win. With 82 pitches thrown, he allowed just three hits, no walks and struck out six as just one Detroit Tiger made it past first base all evening.

Albert Pujols (above) hits a two-run homer off San Diego's Jake Peavy in the fourth inning of Game 1 in the Division Series. It proved to be the game-winning blast, as St. Louis won the game by a 5-1 score.

CARDINALS WORLD SERIES STORY

1926 The Cardinals defeated the Yankees, four games to three, to win their first world championship. Veteran 39-year-old right-hander Grover Cleveland Alexander, obtained by the Redbirds in a midseason trade with the Chicago Cubs, won the second and sixth games, then came on to save the seventh.

1928 Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig paced the Yankees to a four-game sweep of the Cardinals. Ruth batted .625 for the Series and hit three home runs in one game, and Gehrig batted .545 with nine runs batted in. Four of Gehrig's six hits were home runs.

1930 Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Cardinals, four games to two, as the Redbirds hit only .200 and the Athletics .197. Cardinal victories were pitched by Bill Hallahan, 5-0, in the third game, and Jesse Haines, 3-1, in the fourth.

1931 The Cardinals got revenge against the Athletics, defeating them four games to three. Pepper Martin, the Wild Horse of the Osage, paced the Redbirds, stealing five bases, collecting 12 hits and hitting .500. Bill Hallahan and Burleigh Grimes each pitched two victories for the Cardinals.

1934 The "Gas House Gang" won the National League pennant on the final day of the season, then defeated Detroit in the Series, four games to three. Dizzy and Paul Dean, who combined to win 49 games during the regular season, each won two games over the Tigers. The final game of the Series, won by the Cardinals, 11-0, was marked by Commissioner Kenesaw Landis' order to eject Joe (Ducky) Medwick from the game. Medwick had slid hard into Tigers third baseman Marv Owen in the sixth inning, so infuriating Detroit fans that they bombarded Medwick with fruit, vegetables and debris when he took his position in left field in the bottom of the inning. Landis removed Medwick to halt the disturbance.

1942 The Cardinals lost the first game of the Series to the Yankees, then roared back to win four straight. Rookie pitcher Johnny Beazley won two games, lefthander Ernie White shut out the Yankees in the third game, and third baseman Whitey Kurowski belted an RBI-triple in the second game and a two-run, ninth-inning homer to clinch the finale.

1943 The Yankees evened their World Series record against the Cardinals at 2-2 by defeating the Redbirds in five games. The turning point of the Series occurred in the third game. With the Cardinals holding a 2-1 lead in the eighth, Johnny Lindell crashed into Whitey Kurowski at third on pinch-hitter George Stirnweiss' sacrifice bunt and jarred the ball loose from Kurowski's hand. After a fly out and an intentional walk, Billy Johnson's triple drove home three runs, igniting a five-run inning and a 6-2 Yankee victory. Manager Joe McCarthy's team won the next two games, 2-1 and 2-0, to win the title.

1944 In this only all-St. Louis World Series, pitching dominated as the Cardinals defeated the Browns, four games to two. The two teams combined to strike out a six-game Series-record 92 batters, 49 by Cardinal pitchers and 43 by Browns hurlers. Emil Verban topped Cardinal hitters with a .412 average.

1946 Harry (The Cat) Brecheen won three games and the Cardinals topped the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. With the score tied 3-3 in the bottom of the eighth inning of the seventh game, Enos Slaughter singled, then scored all the way from first on Harry Walker's double to left-center, a sprint that surprised Red Sox relay man Johnny Pesky, whose moment's hesitation allowed Slaughter to score the winning run.

1964 A team victory for the Cardinals, who defeated the Yankees, four games to three. Bob Gibson won two games; Ken Boyer hit a grand slam to win the fourth game; Tim McCarver, who batted a Series-high .478, smashed a 10th-inning home run to win the fifth game; and Ron Taylor and Roger Craig combined for 9.2 scoreless innings of relief.

1967 Bob Gibson pitched three complete-game victories and Lou Brock put on one of the finest offensive displays in World Series history as the Cardinals defeated the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. Gibson limited the Red Sox to only 14 hits in three games, and Brock topped all Series hitters with a .414 batting average. Lou also set a Series record by stealing seven bases, and Roger Maris hit .385 and drove in seven runs.

1968 The Cardinals led three games to one, but the Detroit Tigers rallied to win the last three contests and claim their first world championship since 1945. Left-hander Mickey Lolich, who pitched all season in the shadow of 31-game winner Denny McLain, was superb for the Tigers as he won three games, including the 4-1 finale. Bob Gibson won two games for the Redbirds and set Series records by striking out 17 batters in Game One and 35 in the Series, breaking the mark of 31 he set against the Yankees in 1964. Lou Brock batted .464 and stole seven bases.

1982 The Cardinals rallied from a 3-2 deficit in games to defeat the Milwaukee Brewers and bring the World Series Championship trophy back to St. Louis for the first time in 15 years. Joaquin Andujar nailed down two victories and posted a 1.35 ERA while reliever Bruce Sutter posted a win and two saves. John Stuper became only the 14th rookie to start two World Series games, winning the crucial sixth game, a rain-delayed contest that took five hours to complete. Dane Iorg batted .529 and tied a Series record for most hits by a designated hitter. Rookie Willie McGee turned heads by hitting two home runs and making two spectacular catches in one game. Catcher Darrell Porter was named the Series MVP on the strength of his clutch hitting and solid defense.

1985 The Cardinals won the National League Championship Series after losing the first two games to the Los Angeles Dodgers, then winning four straight, including the decisive sixth game on Jack Clark's three-run, ninth-inning homer. In the World Series, they won the first two games at Kansas City, then lost four of the next five games behind an offense that batted only .185 for the Series. John Tudor and Todd Worrell pitched the Cardinals to victory in Game One, and Terry Pendleton's ninth-inning, bases-loaded double sparked a 4-2 victory the next day. Kansas City won its first game, 6-1, behind Brett Saberhagen's pitching, then lost Game Four to Tudor, 3-0. Danny Jackson stopped the Redbirds, 6-1, in the fifth game, although Worrell tied a Series record by striking out six consecutive batters in two innings of relief. The pivotal moment of the Series occurred in the ninth inning of Game Six, with the Cardinals leading, 1-0. After Kansas City leadoff man Jorge Orta reached first on a disputed call by an umpire and Steve Balboni singled after his catchable pop-up fell safely in foul territory, former Cardinal pinch-hitter Dane Iorg stroked a one-out, two-run single for a 2-1 Royals victory. Game Seven was no contest, an 11-0 Royals victory.

1987 After coming back from a 3-2 deficit in games to win the National League Championship Series against San Francisco, the Cardinals lost their first two games of the World Series at Minnesota. Returning to Busch Stadium for Game Three, the Redbirds used a three-run seventh and strong pitching by John Tudor to cut the deficit to 2-1. The next night, utility infielder Tom Lawless, who was filling in for injured third baseman Terry Pendleton, led the Cards to a 7-2 win with a three-run homer in the fourth. The round-tripper was just the second for Lawless at the major league level. The Cardinals completed their sweep at home with a 4-2 win in Game Five. Vince Coleman and Ozzie Smith each stole two bases, and Todd Worrell earned his second save of the Series in relief of winner Danny Cox. In Game Six, the Cardinals took a 5-2 lead into the fifth inning, but homers by Don Baylor and Kent Hrbek carried the Twins to an 11-5 victory. In the decisive seventh game, Series MVP Frank Viola allowed only two runs and Greg Gagne broke a 2-2 sixth-inning tie with an infield single, giving Minnesota a 4-2 victory and its first-ever World Series title. The Series was the first in which the home team won each of the seven games.

2004 St. Louis converted a 105-win regular season into their first National League Championship in 17 years. They followed up a four-game Division Series win over the Los Angeles Dodgers by holding off the Houston Astros in a seven-game N.L. Championship Series. All momentum gained from an exhilerating 5-2 win over Roger Clemens and the Astros in Game Seven of the NLCS disappeared in two cold and wet New England autumn nights at Fenway Park. The Cardinals opened the World Series against the Boston Red Sox by overcoming a 7-2 third-inning deficit to tie Game One, but saw the game slip away when Boston's Mark Bellhorn hit a two-run home run off the right field foul pole to break a 9-9 tie in the bottom of the eighth inning. The Game One loss ruined a fine performance by Larry Walker in his first World Series game. The veteran led the Cardinals with four hits that included a pair of doubles, home run and two RBI. The Red Sox followed with a 6-2 win in Game Two that featured a solid start by Curt Schilling, who allowed an unearned run on four Cardinals hits in six innings on a bad ankle. The Cardinals had won all six of their home N.L. postseason contests, but the Boston pitching staff held St. Louis to one run in 18 innings at Busch Stadium. Both games were decided by three runs, with the Red Sox riding a fine performance by starting pitcher Pedro Martinez to a 4-1 Game Three victory. Larry Walker connected on a ninth-inning home run off Keith Foulke for the Cards only run. Derek Lowe pitched seven innings of three-hit, shutout ball in the 3-0 Game Four win, consigning the Cardinals to the second winless World Series appearance in club history as the Red Sox lifted the World Championship trophy.

2006 With a playoff berth secured on the last day of the regular season, the Cardinals roared through the postseason and captured its 10th World Championship with a convincing four games to one series win over the American League Champion Detroit Tigers. The Redbirds jumped out in the series with a 7-2 thrashing of the Tigers in Game 1 at Detroit's Comerica Park, 48 hours after dispatching the New York Mets 3-1 for its 17th National League pennant in a memorable Game 7 at Shea Stadium. Starting pitcher Anthony Reyes was the story in World Series Game 1, tossing 8.0 innings and allowing two runs on four hits. He was backed by an eight-hit attack that included four extra-base hits. Albert Pujols had a two-run home run and scored twice and Scott Rolen added a home run and double. Jim Edmonds collected a pair of hits. Tigers starter Kenny Rogers stifled the Cardinals lineup in Game 2 on a chilly, 44-degree night with steady drizzle. Rogers limited the Cardinals to two hits in 8.0 shutout innings in the 3-1 Detroit win. The scene shifted to St. Louis and new Busch Stadium, the sixth time a World Series had been played in a ballpark that opened in the same season and first since Cincinnati's old Riverfront Stadium in 1970. Chris Carpenter duplicated Rogers' Game 2 performance, tossing 8.0 scoreless frames and allowing three hits while fanning six in dominating the Tigers offense in the 5-0 win. Jim Edmonds had a two-run double and David Eckstein had two hits to lead the Cardinals. Game 4 had to wait a day as rain inundated the St. Louis area and postponed a Wednesday night tilt after officials waited one hour 51 minutes. The Redbirds rallied from a 3-0 deficit and won Game 4 by a score of 5-4. The winning run scored on a David Eckstein double in the 8th inning, his fourth hit of the game. The Tigers committed a key error an inning earlier, one of five miscues by Bengal hurlers in the series, which led to two runs. St. Louis clinched its first title in 24 years the following evening as Jeff Weaver pitched 8.0 solid innings while allowing two runs (one earned) on four hits and fanning nine. Adam Wainwright sent the Busch Stadium crowd into a frenzy by fanning Detroit's Brandon Inge for the final out. The 4-2 win capped an 11-5 postseason run as the Cardinals won the World Series with the fewest regular season wins ever (during a full season). Series MVP David Eckstein finished with a .364 batting average and four RBI. Scott Rolen's eight hits tied Eckstein for tops on the team and his five runs scored were a team high. The Gold Glove third baseman batted .421 in the series. Catcher Yadier Molina finished a stellar postseason by going 7-for-17 (.412) in the series.

CARDINALS HISTORICAL / SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

1892 St. Louis joined the National League as the Browns, later becoming the Perfectos.

1899 After seven straight losing seasons, the Cardinals added 28 victories to their best previous season total and posted their first winning season at 84-67 to finish fifth in the 12-team league; their highest finish to that point. Jesse Burkett batted .396, Cy Young had a 26-15 record on the mound and Jack Powell won 23 games.

1901 The Cardinals had their second winning season at 76-64, making a run at Pittsburgh before finishing fourth, 14-1/2 games out in the National League's first year with an eight-club league. Jesse Burkett led the NL in hits (228) and his .382 average made him the first Cardinal to win an NL batting championship.

1911 The Cardinals posted only their third wining season in the 20-year history of the franchise as third-year manager Roger Bresnahan guided his club to a 75-74 mark. The Cardinals' fifth-place finish was their highest since 1904 and Bob Harmon recorded a 23-16 mound mark.

1914 In Miller Huggins' second year as Cardinal manager, the 81-72 Redbirds finished third with their best record since 1901 and their highest league finish to that point. Bill Doak posted a 20-6 record and led the NL in earned run average (1.72).

1917 Miller Huggins finished his Cardinal managing tenure as he took the team to another third-place finish and an 82-70 record. Rogers Hornsby hit .327 in his second full year as a regular, and led the league in total bases (253) and slugging average (.484).

1920 The Cardinals moved from Robison Field into Sportman's Park and Rogers Hornsby led the league in total bases, RBI, slugging, hits and doubles while winning the first of six straight NL batting titles at .370. Bill Doak's 20-12 mark made him the Cardinals' first 20-game winner in nine years.

1921 Rogers Hornsby again dominated NL hitters, leading the league in nine categories, including batting (.397), hits (235), runs (131) and RBI (126). He also hit a club-record 21 home runs. Bill Doak led the NL in earned run average at 2.58. St. Louis finished third, seven games behind New York.

1922 After leading the NL in total bases, RBI and hitting in 1920 and 1921, Rogers Hornsby added the home run crown in 1922, becoming the first Cardinal to lead the circuit in homers. His banner year was the Redbirds' first-ever Triple Crown performance. Hornsby had 250 hits, 42 homers, 450 total bases, 152 RBI and a .401 batting mark. He was the first NL hitter to top .400 in the 20th century and his home run total doubled the Cardinal team record he set just a year earlier. Hornsby also had a 33-game hitting streak during the year, establishing a club record which still stands. The Redbirds hit .301 as a team but wound up tied with Pittsburgh for third, one game out of second and eight games behind pennant-winning New York.

1923 Rogers Hornsby and Jim Bottomley gave the Cardinals great punch from the right side of the infield as they ranked one-two in the NL in hitting, with Hornsby at .384 and Bottomley at .371 in his first full year as the club's regular first baseman. Righthander Jesse Haines had a 20-13 mark on the mound but the Cardinals slipped to fifth, 16 games behind New York.

1924 The Cardinals dropped another notch in the standings to sixth, a distant 28-1/2 games behind New York, as the Redbirds experienced their first losing season since 1920. Rogers Hornsby led the league in eight categories, including winning the batting title with a .424 average, the highest mark in the NL since 1900. Jesse Haines pitched the first no-hitter in club history in a 5-0 win July 17 against Boston at Sportsman's Park.

1925 The Cardinals replaced manager Branch Rickey early in the season and put star second baseman Rogers Hornsby at the helm for the rest of the campaign. The Redbirds climbed back over .500 and into fourth place as Hornsby won his second Triple Crown, leading the league in hitting (.403), homers (39), and RBI (143) to become the first Cardinal ever selected as the NL Most Valuable Player. It was Hornsby's sixth straight league batting crown. Jim Bottomley finished second in the league in hitting at .367.

1926 The Cardinals, guided by player-manager and star second baseman Rogers Hornsby, captured their first National League pennant as they won 89 games and finished two games ahead of Cincinnati. Flint Rhem had a 20-7 pitching record and Jim Bottomley led the league in doubles (40) and RBI (120). Catcher Bob O'Farrell batted .293 and was selected the NL Most Valuable Player, while third baseman Les Bell hit .325 and had 100 RBIs.

1927 Bob O'Farrell relinquished his everyday catching duties and became the Cardinals' manager, guiding the Redbirds to a club-record 92 victories but only a second-place finish, a game and a half behind Pittsburgh. Rogers Hornsby was traded to the New York Giants for second baseman Frankie Frisch, who sparked the club with a .337 average and led the NL with 48 stolen bases. The Cardinals had two 20-game winners on the mound staff for the first time since 1904, as Jesse Haines had a 24-10 mark and led the NL with 25 complete games and six shutouts, while Grover Cleveland Alexander went 21-10.

1928 Bill McKechnie took over as Cardinal manager, giving the club its third new field boss in three seasons. McKechnie took his charges to a club-record 95 wins and brought the National League pennant back to St. Louis as the Redbirds finished two lengths ahead of New York and four games in front of Chicago. Jim Bottomley led the league in triples (20), homers (31) and RBI (136) to win the NL Most Valuable Player award, and the club once again produced a pair of 20-game winners in 21-10 Bill Sherdel and 20-8 Jesse Haines. It is the only time in Cardinal history the Redbirds have had two 20-game winners in back-to-back seasons and Sherdel's 21 wins was a club record for lefthanders.

1929 The managerial wheels were spinning again as Billy Southworth took over for Bill McKechnie as the Cardinals' field boss just before mid-season. The Redbirds hit .293 as a team with five regulars above the .325 mark, but the pitching faltered and the Cardinals slipped to fourth place, 20 games behind Chicago.

1930 In one of the best hitting seasons in major league history, the Cardinals overpowered the field offensively to win another National League pennant, finishing two games ahead of Chicago, five lengths in front of New York and six ahead of Brooklyn. Gabby Street became the Redbirds' sixth different regular manager in six seasons and piloted his club to a .314 team batting mark that was only the third best in the NL. Every Cardinal regular hit over .300, led by rightfielder George Watkins who hit a Cardinals club rookie-record .373. Lefty Bill Hallahan was 15-9 as the top winner on a well-balanced pitching staff.

1931 The Cardinals topped the 100-victory mark for the first time with 101 wins and chalked up another National League pennant, their fourth in six seasons. The Redbirds finished 13 games in front of New York, easily the biggest pennant-winning margin they had had to that point. Chick Hafey won the NL batting title at .349, less than a point ahead of both the Giants' Bill Terry and the Cardinals' Jim Bottomley. Frankie Frisch led the league with 28 stolen bases on his way to the NL Most Valuable Player award, and Sparky Adams was tops in the circuit with 46 doubles. Four Cardinals ranked among the league's top five in stolen bases. Bill Hallahan led the league in wins at 19-9, Paul Derringer was 18-8 and Burleigh Grimes finished 17-9.

1932 The Cardinals finished 72-82 to end a string of seven straight winning seasons, the longest such string the team had had to that time. After back-to-back pennants, the Redbirds slipped all the way to sixth place. Ripper Collins took over at first base and led the club in homers with 21, while rookie righthander Dizzy Dean posted an 18-15 mark and led the NL in innings pitched (286) and strikeouts (191).

1933 Frankie Frisch replaced Gabby Street as the Cardinals' manager just after mid-season and piloted the Redbirds back to a winning mark of 82-71. That only got the Cards fifth place in a tight NL pennant race as St. Louis was just 9-1/2 games behind New York. Four Cardinals were on the NL team in the first-ever All-Star Game as third baseman Pepper Martin, second baseman Frisch, catcher Jimmie Wilson and pitcher Bill Hallahan started the mid-summer classic at Chicago's Comiskey Park. Frisch hit the first NL All-Star homer. Martin led the league in runs scored and steals. Dizzy Dean again led the league in strikeouts (199) and posted a 20-18 record.

1934 The Gashouse Gang, one of the flashiest and most famous of all Cardinal ballclubs, ran its way to the National League pennant. In his first full year as manager, Frankie Frisch guided the Redbirds to 95 wins and a margin of two games over New York in the final standings. Ripper Collins led the NL with 35 homers but Pepper Martin was the sparkplug of the ballclub and led the league with 23 steals. Dizzy Dean fashioned a brilliant 30-7 season with a club record win total. He also paced the NL with 195 strikeouts and seven shutouts. No NL pitcher has won 30 games in a season since Dean's big year. His selection as NL Most Valuable Player was the fifth for the Cardinals in a decade. The Dean family finished with 49 wins for the Cardinals as Dizzy's younger brother, Paul Dean, was 19-11 and authored a 3-0 no-hitter at Brooklyn on Sept. 21.

1935 The Cardinals won 96 games but finished second by four games to Chicago's 100-win effort. Ripper Collins and Joe Medwick each clubbed 23 homers and Medwick drove in 126 runs to 122 for Collins as St. Louis led the NL in a number of offensive categories, including a .288 team batting mark. The Dean brothers chalked up another 47 wins as Dizzy Dean finished 28-12 and his 182 strikeouts were the NL's best total for the fourth year in a row. Paul Dean had a 19-12 record. The Redbird season included a club-record 14-game winning streak.

1936 The Cardinals finished with 87 wins and got a tie for second in the NL with Chicago, five games behind New York. Dizzy Dean was 24-13 but no other hurler won more than 11 games. Joe Medwick hit .351 and led the league in hits (223), doubles with a club-record 64, and RBIs (138).

1937 Joe Medwick slugged his way to the NL Triple Crown with a .374 batting average, 31 home runs and 154 runs batted in. He became the sixth Cardinal to collect the NL Most Valuable Player award as he also had 237 hits and 56 doubles among the eight categories in which he led NL hitters. Young Johnny Mize belted 25 homers and batted .364 with 113 RBIs and Lon Warneke led the mound staff with an 18-11 record. The Cardinals came home fourth in the league, 15 games behind New York. Medwick also had a record four hits in the All-Star game.

1938 The Cardinals slipped to sixth in the NL, winning just 71 games. Joe Medwick again led the league in doubles (47) and RBI (122) and Johnny Mize was the NL's best in slugging (.614) and triples (16) as he also popped 34 doubles and 27 homers while driving in 102 runs. Mize hit .337 and Medwick finished at .322.

1939 Ray Blades took over as the Cardinals' manager and the Redbirds rebounded smartly, winning 92 games and finishing second, 4-1/2 games behind Cincinnati. Johnny Mize won the NL batting title with a .349 mark and also set the pace in homers with 28. Curt Davis posted a 22-16 record while five other hurlers won 10 or more games.

1940 Slugger Johnny Mize set a new Cardinal home run record, a mark which would last for 58 years, as he blasted 43 round-trippers and led the NL in homers, RBI (137) and slugging (.626). Lon Warneke and Bill McGee each won 16 games to lead the pitchers. Billy Southworth, the Cardinals' manager for a portion of the 1929 season, took over as field boss early in the campaign and the Cardinals won at a .633 pace after he took over before they finished third in the NL standings, 16 games behind Cincinnati. The Cardinals played their first home night games and also hosted the All-Star game in Sportsman's Park in St. Louis for the first time, with the National League a 4-0 winner.

1941 With Billy Southworth in his first full season as manager, the Cardinals won 97 games and finished second to Brooklyn by 2-1/2 games. Johnny Mize led the NL with 39 doubles but his other numbers dipped from earlier year performances and a young outfielder named Stan Musial joined the team late in the season to hit .426 in a brief 12-game trial. Lon Warneke at 17-9 and Ernie White at 17-7 were the top Cardinal winners. Warneke would hurl the third no-hitter by a St. Louis pitcher as he tossed a 2-0 gem August 30 in Cincinnati.

1942 The Cardinals won a club record 106 games but it took every one of them as the Redbirds finished just two games ahead of Brooklyn for the National League pennant. The Cardinals won their first crown in eight years in a fierce pennant race highlighted by a 21-4 record by the Cardinals in September. The Cardinals led the league in hitting at .268 and had excellent balance on the ballclub as three different players led the league in various offensive categories. Jimmy Brown had 606 at-bats, Enos Slaughter had 188 hits and Marty Marion poked 38 doubles. Stan Musial moved into leftfield to give the Cardinals' fleet-footed outfield of Musial, centerfielder Terry Moore and rightfielder Slaughter its first full season together. Musial hit .315 while Slaughter led the club at .318. Mort Cooper was 22-7 and led the NL in wins, ERA (1.78) and shutouts (10) while Johnny Beazley was right behind with a 21-6 log and a Cardinal record for wins by a rookie pitcher. Cooper was voted the NL Most Valuable Player.

1943 Billy Southworth's Redbirds followed their 106 wins from 1942 with 105 the next year and the team's seventh National League pennant came much more easily as St. Louis finished 18 games in front of second-place Cincinnati. The Redbirds again led the league in hitting and Stan Musial claimed the first of what would be seven NL batting titles as he hit .357 and also led the league in hits (220), doubles (48) and triples (20). The Cardinals lost key players to the war effort but stayed on top as Mort Cooper went 21-8 on the mound, leading the league in wins and winning percentage. Howie Pollet won just eight games but led the NL in earned run average at 1.75, the lowest ever by a Cardinal lefty. Max Lanier had a 1.90 ERA to go with his 15-7 record. Musial was voted the NL Most Valuable Player.

1944 World War II continued to erode the playing talent for all major league clubs but the Cardinals won again as they chalked up 105 wins for the second year in a row and a three-year total of 316 victories, the best three-year total in club history. The Cardinals finished 14-1/2 games ahead of Pittsburgh in the pennant chase. Stan Musial batted .347 and led the league in hits (197) and doubles (51) but it was again the brilliant Cardinal pitching which made the difference. Mort Cooper was 22-7 while Max Lanier and Ted Wilks won 17 games each and Harry Brecheen collected 16 victories as the Redbirds' 2.67 team earned run average was the NL's best. Marty Marion was voted the NL Most Valuable Player, the third Cardinal in succession to win that honor.

1945 The conclusion of World War II decimated major league rosters for one more year, and the Cardinals, with their regular outfield gone, won 95 games but finished second in the NL pennant race, three games behind Chicago. Rookie Red Schoendienst broke in and played leftfield for the Cardinals, leading the NL with 26 stolen bases. Red Barrett was 21-9 on the mound and Ken Burkhart had a 19-8 record.

1946 Eddie Dyer took over as the Cardinals' manager as the teams returned to full strength following the return of players from the military. The Cardinals won 96 games and finished tied with Brooklyn for the NL pennant, setting up the first tiebreaker (best-of-three playoff) in major league history. The Redbirds clipped the Dodgers twice for the NL crown and Stan Musial took over at first base with a banner season which won him his second NL Most Valuable Player award. Musial led the NL in seven hitting categories, including hits (228), doubles (50), triples (20), runs (124) and batting (.365), while Enos Slaughter scored 100 runs and drove in a league-high 130. Howie Pollet led the NL in wins with a 21-10 record, tying the club record for wins by a lefthander, and he also set the pace in earned run average at 2.10. Harry Brecheen and Murry Dickson were 15-game winners for the Cardinals. The Cardinals went over one million in home attendance for the first time at 1,062,553.

1947 St. Louis finished second to Brooklyn as the Redbirds' 89 victories trailed the Dodgers by five and snapped a club-record streak of six consecutive 90-win seasons. The Cardinals set a new club record for home attendance with 1,248,013 fans in Sportsman's Park. Whitey Kurowski led the Cardinals with 27 homers and 104 RBIs and George Munger and Harry Brecheen set the pace on the mound with 16 wins each.

1948 Stan Musial turned in the best season of his 22-year Cardinal career, winning his third NL Most Valuable Player award and barely missing the Triple Crown as he led the league in six categories and finished with 39 home runs, 135 runs, 230 hits, 46 doubles, a .376 batting average and a .702 slugging mark. New York's Johnny Mize and Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner shared the NL home run lead with 40 each, one ahead of Musial. The Cardinals' 85 wins were again good for second place, 6 1/2 games behind Brooklyn. Harry Brecheen led the NL in winning percentage, strikeouts (149) and earned run average (2.24) as he posted a 20-7 record. Sportsman's Park was the site for the All-Star game for the second time, with the American League winning, 5-2.

1949 The Cardinals won 96 games and finished second again, this time trailing Brooklyn by a single game in a hotly-contested pennant race. St. Louis set yet another new home attendance record at 1,430,676, a mark that would stand for 17 years and remain the club's best single-season attendance in Sportman's Park/old Busch Stadium. Stan Musial hit .338 and led the NL in hits, doubles and triples and Enos Slaughter batted .336. Howie Pollet led a parade of six Cardinal pitchers with 10 or more wins as he posted a 20-9 record.

1950 The Cardinals slipped to just above .500 with 78 wins and fifth place in the NL, marking the first time the team hadn't finished either first or second in the league since 1940. Eddie Dyer was in his last year as manager and Stan Musial claimed the NL batting title with a .346 mark while Red Schoendienst led the league in at bats (642) and doubles (43). Musial's season included a 30-game hitting streak, second best in club history, and Schoendienst popped a home run in the 14th inning to give the NL a 4-3 victory in the All-Star Game at Chicago's Comiskey Park. The Cardinals beat the Pirates, 4-2, on April 18 at Sportsman's Park in baseball's first-ever opening day night game.

1951 Long-time Cardinal favorite Marty Marion retired as a player and took over as Redbirds' manager, guiding St. Louis to an 81-73 record and third place in the NL, 15-1/2 games behind New York after the Giants beat Brooklyn in a playoff for the NL crown. Stan Musial led the NL in batting (.355), runs scored (124) and, for the fifth time, triples (12). Gerry Staley was the team's top pitcher at 19-13.

1952 Eddie Stanky was hired as the Cardinals skipper and the playing-manager guided his club to 88 wins but the Cardinals again ran third, 8-1/2 games behind Brooklyn and four games behind second-place New York. It would be the Cardinals' highest win total during the 1950s. Stan Musial hit .336 to win his third straight NL batting title and sixth overall and also led the league in slugging (.538), hits (194) and doubles (42) while sharing the NL lead in runs scored at 105 with Cardinal shortstop Solly Hemus. Gerry Staley was 17-14 to again finish as the club's top hurler.

1953 The Cards claimed their third straight third-place finish as they tied with Philadelphia for that spot, 22 games behind the 105-win season turned in by Brooklyn. Red Schoendienst hit .342 and finished second in the NL in hitting while Stan Musial batted .337. Ray Jablonski hit a club rookie-record 21 home runs. Rookie Harvey Haddix logged a 20-7 mound mark and Gerry Staley was 18-9.

1954 The Cardinals opened under the new ownership of Anheuser-Busch with Sportsman's Park extensively renovated and renamed Busch Stadium. The ballclub finished sixth at 72-82, the first losing record for the franchise since 1938. Stan Musial hit five home runs in a May 2 doubleheader against the Giants at Busch Stadium, a major league twinball record, as he batted .330 for the season and led the league in doubles (41) and runs scored (120). Centerfielder Wally Moon hit .304 and was the first Redbird ever named NL Rookie of the Year. Harvey Haddix was 18-13 on the mound.

CARDINALS HISTORICAL / SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

1955 The Cardinals finished seventh in the league at 68-86, their lowest finish since 1918. Eddie Stanky's run as manager ended early in the year and Harry Walker took over the ballclub. Stan Musial hit 33 homers and batted .330 while Bill Virdon hit .281 and became the second Cardinal centerfielder in as many years to win NL Rookie of the Year honors. Rookie Ken Boyer took over at third base. Musial's season also included a 12th inning home run in the All-Star Game in Milwaukee which won the game for the NL, 6-5.

1956 Fred Hutchinson was named the Cardinals' manager and piloted the Redbirds to a 76-78 record and fourth place, 17 games behind Brooklyn. A highlight of the season was a seven-player trade with New York which sent long-time Cardinal favorite Red Schoendienst to the Giants. The Redbirds got shortstop Al Dark in the trade. Ken Boyer had three hits for the NL in the All-Star game in Baltimore.

1957 The Cardinals won 87 games and battled Milwaukee in a tight pennant race before the Braves pulled away down the stretch to finish eight games ahead of second-place St. Louis. Stan Musial claimed his seventh and last NL batting title as he hit .351 at the age of 36. Musial established a National League endurance record by extending his streak of consecutive games played to 895 before an injury forced him to the bench. The mishap occurred at Philadelphia on Aug. 22, when he tore a muscle and chipped a bone in his shoulder blade as he swung at and missed a high outside pitch. Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel posted identical 15-9 records to pace the mound staff. St. Louis hosted the All-Star Game but the American League won the mid-summer classic, 6-5.

1958 Fred Hutchinson's tenure as Cardinal manager came to a close as the Redbirds slipped into a tie with Chicago for fifth place at 72-82. Stan Musial began the year just 43 hits away from 3,000. Pinch-hitting in the sixth inning against the Cubs at Wrigley Field on May 13, Musial doubled to collect his 3,000th career hit. Musial finished with a .337 batting mark. Righthander Sam Jones led the NL in strikeouts (225), the first 200-strikeout season by a Cardinal.

1959 Solly Hemus took over as the Cardinal manager but the Redbirds slipped two more notches in the standings to seventh as Los Angeles and Milwaukee tied for the NL title before the Dodgers beat the Braves in a playoff. Ken Boyer had his second straight big year at the plate with 28 homers, 94 RBI and a .309 batting mark and Joe Cunningham led the club in hitting at .345. Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel each won 14 games.

1960 The Cards bounced back to a third-place finish, winning 86 games and finishing two games behind Milwaukee and nine games from pennant-winning Pittsburgh. Ken Boyer slammed a career-high 32 homers and had 97 RBI. Ernie Broglio led the NL in wins and winning percentage with a 21-9 mark while Larry Jackson finished 18-13 and led the league in starts (38) and innings pitched (282). Stan Musial homered in Yankee Stadium in the year's second All-Star Game, giving him six All-Star homers, a record which still stands.

1961 In the last season of an eight-team National League, the Cardinals finished fifth at 80-74 as Johnny Keane took over for Solly Hemus as manager at mid-season and guided the club to a strong turnaround over the second half of the season. Bill White hit 24 homers and Ken Boyer added 20 while Curt Flood hit .322. Larry Jackson and Ray Sadecki each won 14 games for the Redbirds.

1962 The National League expanded to 10 teams and the Cardinals ran in the middle of the pack, finishing sixth with an 84-78 record as San Francisco edged Los Angeles in a playoff for the NL title. Stan Musial, nearing his 42nd birthday, made a bid for his eighth batting title by hitting .330, but Tommy Davis of the Dodgers won the crown with a .346 mark. Larry Jackson won 16 games and Bob Gibson turned in a 15-win year.

1963 St. Louis made a strong run in September by winning 19 of 20 games to close to within a game of Los Angeles before losing a three-game series in Busch Stadium to the Dodgers. The Cardinals finished 93-69 and wound up six games behind the Dodgers. The Cardinals infield of Bill White, Julian Javier, Dick Groat and Ken Boyer made history by becoming the starting infield for the National League in the All-Star game. Stan Musial, who won seven National League batting titles in his 22-year career with the Cardinals and had a lifetime average of .331, announced his retirement. His famous No. 6 became the first Cardinal number to be retired in ceremonies at his final game Sept. 29 at Busch Stadium. He had two singles in his final game to finish with 3,630 career hits, with identical totals of 1,815 each in games played at home and on the road. Musial also played in his 23rd consecutive All-Star Game, and still shares the record for games played (24) in the mid-summer classic. Bob Gibson and Ernie Broglio anchored the mound staff with 18 victories each and Groat led the NL with 43 doubles.

1964 St. Louis wins its first National League pennant in 18 years as the 93-69 Redbirds of Johnny Keane posted a one-game victory after a late-season pennant battle with Philadelphia and Cincinnati. St. Louis got outfielder Lou Brock in a June 15 trade with Chicago and the Redbirds caught fire in July, moving from a 47-48 record to go 46-21 the rest of the way and capture the pennant after trailing the Phillies by six games with 12 to play. Ken Boyer was voted NL Most Valuable Player as he drove home a league-high 119 runs and batted .295 with 24 homers. Bill White hit 21 homers with 102 RBIs and a .303 mark and Curt Flood led the league with 211 hits. Brock finished with a .348 batting mark and 33 stolen bases. The mound staff had strong three-man leadership from Ray Sadecki at 20-11, Bob Gibson at 19-12 and Curt Simmons at 18-9.

1965 Johnny Keane left after the 1964 World Series to pilot the New York Yankees and long-time Cardinal favorite Red Schoendienst was installed as the Redbirds' field boss. The Cardinals never got out of the blocks and finished below .500 at 80-81, winding up seventh in the NL. Curt Flood led the team in hitting at .310, Bill White belted 24 homers and Lou Brock swiped 63 bases to lead the offense. Bob Gibson posted his first 20-win season at 20-12.

1966 The Cardinals ended a 47-year stay in old Busch Stadium, closing out the old ballpark in a 10-5 loss to San Francisco May 8. After a two-game series in Chicago, the Cardinals returned home May 12 to Busch Memorial Stadium, their new 50,000-seat ballpark in downtown St. Louis. The Cardinals christened the new playground with a 12-inning, 5-4 win over Atlanta as Lou Brock singled with the bases loaded to drive in Curt Flood with the winning run. Don Dennis got the Cardinal victory and Phil Niekro was the loser as Mike Shannon had the first Cardinal hit in the new park and Felipe Alou of the Braves homered twice. The Cardinals also hosted the All-Star game in their new park on July 12 as the National League emerged a 2-1 winner. The Redbirds had a new look as the season began on the heels of the trade of popular veterans Ken Boyer, Bill White and Dick Groat, and the Redbirds finished sixth at 83-79. An early-season trade installed Orlando Cepeda at first base where he would be a fixture on two pennant-winning teams. Brock led the NL in stolen bases with 74, Bob Gibson had a 21-12 record and a league-high five shutouts. Gibson shared the NL shutout lead with Cardinals teammate Larry Jaster, whose 11-5 record included five shutout wins over NL champ Los Angeles.

1967 The Cardinals used strong balance in pitching, offense and defense and rolled to the pennant by a margin of 10-1/2 games over second-place San Francisco as Red Schoendienst's club won 101 games. Newly-acquired Orlando Cepeda collected the NL Most Valuable Player award as he hit .325 with 25 homers and a league-high 111 RBI. Lou Brock led the league in runs (113) and stolen bases (52) and powered a career-high 21 homers. Rightfielder Mike Shannon moved to third base to make room in the outfield for baseball home run king Roger Maris, newly acquired from the Yankees. The Cardinals breezed to the flag despite a broken leg suffered by star righthander Bob Gibson in July when he was struck by a line drive off the bat of Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente. Gibson came back to pitch the Redbirds' pennant-clincher in September and finished with a 13-7 record. Steve Carlton and Nelson Briles each posted 14 victories and righthander Dick Hughes was the club's top winner with a 16-6 record. The Cards drew two million in total home attendance for the first time, finishing with 2,090,145 fans.

1968 In the final year of a single, 10-team league, the Cards chalked up their second straight pennant and the 12th in the history of the franchise as they won 97 games and breezed to a nine-game victory over second-place San Francisco. St. Louis put another powerful ballclub on the field in a major league season almost totally dominated by pitching. Righthander Bob Gibson was nearly invincible with a 22-9 record. He led the NL with a 1.12 earned run average, 268 strikeouts and 13 shutouts. Gibson had a 15-game winning streak at one point and his ERA was the best in league history for a hurler with more than 300 innings pitched. Gibson captured the NL Most Valuable Player award and became the first Cardinal ever to win the Cy Young Award. Lou Brock led the league in doubles (46), triples (14) and stolen bases (62) and St. Louis again topped two million in home attendance. Ray Washburn hurled the Cardinals' first no-hitter in 27 years, a 2-0 gem over the Giants in San Francisco Sept. 18, just one day after the Giants' Gaylord Perry had no-hit the Redbirds by a 1-0 score.

1969 Divisional play began in major league baseball but the Cardinals never got moving in their bid to become the first team to win three straight NL titles since the 1942-43-44 Cardinal entries. The Redbirds acquired Vada Pinson to replace the retired Roger Maris in rightfield but Pinson suffered a broked leg early in the season. The Redbirds staged a strong comeback in July but faded down the stretch and finished fourth in the NL East, 13 games behind pennant-winning New York. Joe Torre led St. Louis with 101 RBIs and Lou Brock led the NL with 53 stolen bases. Bob Gibson had a 20-13 mound mark and lefty Steve Carlton set a major league record Sept. 15 against the Mets when he struck out 19 batters, losing the game 4-3 on a pair of two-run homers by New York's Ron Swoboda. Carlton struck out at least one man in every inning and fanned the side in four different frames.

1970 St. Louis repeated their fourth-place finish in the NL East but dipped below .500 for only the second time since 1959 with a 76-86 record. Bob Gibson dominated again on the mound with a 23-7 record and earned his second NL Cy Young Award but only one other Cardinal hurler won as many as 10 games. Lou Brock stole 51 bases and Joe Torre had 21 homers and 100 RBI to go with a .325 batting mark.

1971 Joe Torre had a banner year as he led the NL in hitting (.363), hits (230) and runs batted in (137) while popping 24 homers on his way to the NL Most Valuable Player award. Bob Gibson finished 16-13 on the mound in a year highlighted when he threw an 11-0 no-hitter at Pittsburgh Aug. 14. Steve Carlton gave the Cardinals a 20-9 mound season. Lou Brock led the NL with 64 stolen bases, becoming the first major league player to steal 50 or more in seven consecutive seasons. Red Schoendienst finished his seventh season as the Cardinals' skipper, a club managerial longevity record, as the Cardinals won 90 games and finished second to Pittsburgh by seven games in the NL East pennant race.

1972 The season's start was delayed by major league baseball's first player strike. The Cardinals finished 75-81 and were fourth in the NL East. Lou Brock again led the NL in steals, swiping 63 bases and extending his record for years with 50 or more steals to eight. Brock hit .311 while Matty Alou led the club in batting at .314. Bob Gibson posted a 19-11 record as the team's top mound winner. Gibson extended his major league record for most seasons with 200 or more strikeouts to nine, and also set an NL career record for righthanders when he logged his 2,786th strikeout. The Cardinals drew their 50 millionth home fan since 1900.

1973 The Cardinals started out a horrendous 3-15 but bounced back to take over first place in the NL East by the all-star break. A down-to-the-wire pennant race saw the New York Mets barely above .500 with a final 82-79 record but that mark was good enough for the Mets to win the Eastern Division pennant by a game and a half over the Cardinals. The top five teams in the division were all within five games of first place at the end. Lou Brock again led the league in stolen bases with 70, extending his record for consecutive seasons with 50 or more steals to nine. Brock swiped his 600th base and moved into ninth on the career steals list. Bob Gibson moved into second place on the career strikeout list and Joe Torre collected his 2,000th career hit and 1,000th career RBI during the campaign.

1974 Lou Brock stole 118 bases to break Maury Wills' single-season mark and surpasses Max Carey's N.L. career record. Brock moved from ninth to second on the all-time career stolen base list. Gibson strikes out the 3,000th batter of his career to become only the second pitcher in baseball history to reach that figure. The Cardinals draw more than 1,800,000 fans, the third-highest home attendance in their history. The Redbirds and Mets play a 25-inning game, the longest night game in major league history and the longest game ever played to conclusion. Cardinals win as Bake McBride scores from first on two errors. McBride is named the N.L. Rookie Of The Year.

1975 Brock collected career hit No. 2,500 and stolen base No. 800. Gibson retired after a 17-year Cardinal career and 251 victories. Gibby was honored by a standing-room crowd on Bob Gibson Day. Jacket Day attracted 50,548 fans, the largest regular-season crowd in St. Louis baseball history. Al Hrabosky compiled 13 wins and 22 saves and was named NL "Fireman of the Year." Ted Simmons finished second in the league batting race with a .332 average.

1976 John Denny won the National League ERA title at age 23, tying youngest right-hander to win ERA title in N.L. Lou Brock got the 2700th hit of his career and closed to within 27 of tying Ty Cobb's stolen base record.

1977 Lou Brock broke Ty Cobb's career stolen base mark with number 893 in San Diego, August 29. Garry Templeton became the youngest M.L. shortstop ever to gather 200 hits in a season. Templeton led the majors with 18 triples, the highest number since 1957. Ted Simmons set the club record for home runs by a catcher with 21. Ken Reitz set a fielding record for N.L. third basemen by committing only nine errors. Bob Forsch won 20 games.

1978 Bob Forsch no-hit the Phillies 5-0, April 16 at Busch Stadium. Manager, Vern Rapp was dismissed on April 24. Ken Boyer became Cardinal manager on April 29. Ted Simmons set a club season record and career high with 22 homers for a catcher. George Hendrick has seven RBI at Atlanta, August 25. Busch Memorial Stadium got new astroturf.

1979 Lou Brock collected his 3000th career hit (single off Dennis Lamp) in the 4th inning against the Cubs on August 13 at Busch Stadium. On September 23, Brock stole his 938th base making him baseball's all-time stolen base leader surpassing William (Sliding Billy) Hamilton. Keith Hernandez wins batting title with .344 average and is co-winner of National League M.V.P. award with Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell. Garry Templeton led N.L. with 211 hits. Templeton also led the league in triples with 19, for the third year in a row, setting a new N.L. record and tying the major league mark. His 19 triples are highest number since 1957. He became the first switch-hitter in major league history to collect 100 hits, both right and left-handed, in one season. Garry finished with 100 hits RH and 111 hits LH. Ted Simmons hit a career-high 26 home runs, which also set a club record for homers by a catcher.

1980 Ken Reitz broke his own NL fielding record for third basemen by committing only eight errors. Dane Iorg had seven RBI, August 28 vs. Atlanta. Manager Ken Boyer was dismissed on June 8. Whitey Herzog became Cardinals manager on June 9. On August 18, John Claiborne was fired as G.M. and Herzog was named G.M. on August 29. Red Schoendienst served as interim manager for balance of season. On October 24, Herzog assumed dual role of general manager and field manager.

1981 The Cardinals finished the season with the best winning percentage in the Eastern Division, but missed the playoffs because they finished second in each of the two sections of the schedule caused by the mid-summer players' strike. The Philadelphia Phillies, leaders when the strike began, were voted the first-half championship (however, the Phillies, Cardinals, and Cincinnati Reds voted against it), while Montreal won the second half. In each half, the Cardinals played fewer games than the "winners", and could have tied or won either half with the opportunity to play the same number of games. In the individual field, Bruce Sutter, one of several players obtained in winter trades by Herzog, was the National League's top reliever, winning the Rolaids Relief Man award.

1982 In order to concentrate more on managing, Whitey Herzog stepped down as General Manager on Opening Day, turning the reins over to Joe McDonald. The move paid off as the Cardinals were out of first place for only 48 days of the season and claimed their first ever National League East Championship. A 3-0 sweep of the Atlanta Braves put the Cards in their 13th World Series against the Milwaukee Brewers who fell 4-3 to St. Louis in the 'Fall Classic.' The 1982 team was characterized by an aggressive running style of baseball; seven players stole bases in double figures, led by team catalyst Lonnie Smith, who swiped 68. The team hit only 67 home runs, the fewest in the major leagues. Strong and consistent pitching performances were the rule: prior to clinching the title the Cardinals never lost more than three games in a row. Bruce Sutter had a hand in almost half of the team's victories.

1983 Despite the fact that the 1983 Cardinals finished in fourth place, eleven games out, the team was competitive and exciting, although inconsistent, throughout much of the season. The team climbed to within a half-game of the division lead on September 5 before embarking on a thirteen-day road trip during which the failure of the starting rotation caused the team to plummet out of contention. Still there were noteworthy performances during the year. As a team, the running Redbirds set a new club record with 207 stolen bases. Individually, Danny Cox made his way from extended spring training in April to playing a part in the Cardinals' starting rotation. Bob Forsch pitched the second no-hitter of his career. The league's best right-fielder, George Hendrick, moved to first base after Keith Hernandez was traded and earned post -season honors at his new position. Ozzie Smith won his fourth straight Gold Glove and Willie McGee won his first one.

1984 The Cardinals got off to a bad start in 1984 and dwelled in fifth place for much of the first half of the season before turning things around after the All-Star break. Following the mid-summer classic the Cards posted a 42-33 record, second in the National League only to the eventual N.L. Champions, the Chicago Cubs. That surge lifted the Cards into a third place finish in the division at year end despite contending with many injuries. The team's 220 stolen bases set a new club record, surpassing the 207 mark from 1983, and made them the first major league team since the 1916 St. Louis Browns to steal 200 or more bases three years in a row...Individually, Bruce Sutter set a National League and tied the major league record for saves in a season (45). Joaquin Andujar (20-14) became the club's first 20-game winner in seven seasons. Rookie Terry Pendleton hit .324 after joining the club in July and sparking the team to a 41-29 record. The Cards drew over 2,000,000 fans for the third consecutive year.

1985 The Cardinals lost their first four games, struggled to 7-7, then lost four more. The next time they reached .500 it was at 20-20, and then things got better. They finally made it to first place on June 21, and they were there most of the season. Five defeats in six games early in September left the Cardinals a game behind the New York Mets with 25 to play. But the Redbirds then won 14 of their next 15 and took the division title by three games with 101 victories. Individually, Willie McGee was the batting champion (at .353, a new high for a N.L. switch-hitter) and Most Valuable Player; Vince Coleman was Rookie of the Year, and John Tudor and Joaquin Andujar each won 21 games and Danny Cox took 18. Willie McGee and Ozzie Smith won Gold Gloves again, and great starts by Tommy Herr (110 RBI) and Jack Clark (22 homers) contributed.

1986 The defending National League Champions stumbled at the beginning of the season. After the first two months of the season the Cardinals had the worst record in the League. But the team righted itself posting winning records in each of the next four months to finish third in the National League's Eastern Division. Individually Vince Coleman stole 107 bases to become the first player ever to steal over 100 bases in each of his first two seasons and the first N.L. player to steal 100 bases twice; rookie left-hander Greg Mathews, who was promoted from Louisville, won 11 games in little more than half a season; Ozzie Smith won his seventh straight Gold Glove and Todd Worrell was named N.L. Rookie of the Year. Worrell blazed his way to a major league rookie record 36 saves, becoming the first rookie pitcher ever to lead the league in saves and the first rookie to earn N.L. Relief Pitcher of the Year honor...Three attendance milestones were hit and surpassed during the course of the season. The Cardinals reached the two million mark for the fifth consecutive year, drew the 75 millionth fan in the history of the franchise since 1900 and drew the 50 millionth fan to see the Redbirds play under Anheuser-Busch ownership.

1987 Sparked by a potent offense, the Cardinals slipped no further than two games back in the N.L. East standings and claimed sole possession of first place on May 22. Beset by injuries to several key players throughout the season, manager Whitey Herzog made use of a mixture of experienced veterans and eager rookies to fill the voids created by injuries. The Cardinals extended their lead to 9Zx games on July 23 but saw the lead shrink to 1 game as late as Sept. 19. A come-from-behind win a New York on Sept. 11 followed by a doubleheader sweep of the Expos on Sept. 29, set the stage for the pennant clinching win over Montreal on Oct. 1. Several Cards enjoyed banner seasons offensively, including Vince Coleman (third straight season with 100 SB), Jack Clark (35 HR and 106 RBI), Ozzie Smith (.300 BA for first time in his career), Terry Pendleton (.286 BA and 96 RBI), Willie McGee (105 RBI). The Redbirds had four starters with 10 or more victories (John Tudor, Bob Forsch, Greg Mathews and Danny Cox) while rookie Joe Magrane showed much promise in his initial season. In the bullpen, Todd Worrell followed up his impressive rookie season with 33 saves and Ken Dayley overcame serious elbow surgery to post nine wins in relief. 1987 was a fantastic year at the gate as well, as the Cardinals drew a Major League leading 3,072,122 fans, becoming just the third club in M.L. history to surpass the three million mark in attendance.

1988 After acquiring Tom Brunansky from Minnesota in April, the defending N.L. champions climbed within six games of first on June 12, but injuries to Bob Horner and Terry Pendleton crippled the offense. By the end of July, the Cardinals were 19 games out of first. Newcomer Jose DeLeon became the first Cards pitcher since 1972 to record 200 strikeouts. Sophomore hurler Joe Magrane won the N.L. ERA title with a 2.18 mark, despite winning just five games. Todd Worrell posted his third-straight 30-save season, and Vince Coleman led the league in stolen bases for the fourth consecutive year. Jose Oquendo became the first N.L. player since 1918 to play all nine positions in a season. Trades that brought Pedro Guerrero, Denny Walling and Brunansky to St. Louis also ended long-time affiliations with departing players Tom Herr, Bob Forsch and John Tudor. Despite finishing fifth, the club drew nearly 2.9 million fans to Busch.

1989 Although the outlook was bleak when injuries crippled the pitching staff in spring training, the Cardinals remained in the race until the final week of the season. The Redbirds pulled within a half-game of the division-leading Chicago Cubs with a dramatic come-from-behind win on Sept. 9, but a six-game losing streak followed and the Cards sunk to third place on the final day of the season. Pedro Guerrero was spectacular in the clutch, batting .406 with runners in scoring position and leading the club with 117 RBI and a .311 batting average. Vince Coleman again led the league in stolen bases and set a major league record by stealing 50 consecutive bases without being caught, a streak begun in 1988. Despite the early concern over the pitching staff, Joe Magrane (18 wins) and Jose DeLeon (16) spearheaded the patched-up starting unit. The Cardinals set a club attendance record, attracting 3,080,980 fans during a season that ended on a sad note when long-time club president August A. Busch Jr. died at age 90.

1990 Considered by many to be a contender following the spring training "lockout," the Cardinals never lived up to expectations and finished in last place for the first time since 1918. On July 5, Manager Whitey Herzog resigned after more than 10 years as the Cards' skipper. Interim manager Red Schoendienst took over until Aug. 2, when Joe Torre was named manager. Willie McGee won the league batting title (.335), despite being traded to Oakland in late August as the team made room for younger players. One of those was rookie catcher Todd Zeile, who led the team with 15 homers. John Tudor returned to the club and posted a team-high 12 wins but announced his retirement following the season. Vince Coleman led the league in steals for the sixth straight year, tying Maury Wills' N.L. record, and batted a career-high .292. Starting pitchers Jose DeLeon (a league-high 19 losses) and Joe Magrane (17 losses) were disappointments. Reliever Lee Smith was a steady closer following his acquisition in May, saving 27 games. Jose Oquendo set a major league record for fewest errors by a second baseman (three).

1991 Coming off a last-place finish, the Cardinals were one of baseball's biggest surprises in 1991, moving up to second place in the N.L. East. Manager Joe Torre, in his first full season at the Cardinals' helm, opened the year with several unproven players at key positions. Among the young standouts were outfielders Ray Lankford and Felix Jose. Lankford led the majors with 15 triples and had a team-high 44 steals. Nine Cardinals stole 10 or more bases, the first time since 1917 that a team had done so. Former Athletic Jose, playing his first full season in the National League, led the Cardinals in batting (.305) and plugged Busch Stadium's spacious gaps with 40 doubles. Sophomore Todd Zeile made a fine transition from catcher to third base, leading the club with 11 homers and 81 RBI. Catcher Tom Pagnozzi, seeing his first full-time duty, earned a Gold Glove award. The season also was a good one for Cardinals named Smith. Lee Smith set an N.L. record with 47 saves and became only the fifth pitcher to record 300 career saves. Ozzie Smith set an N.L. record for fewest errors by a shortstop (eight) en route to winning his 12th Gold Glove. Bryn Smith's 12 wins paced the pitching staff, which was without Joe Magrane, Frank DiPino and Todd Worrell due to injuries. Young starters Ken Hill (11 wins) and Omar Olivares (11 wins), and reliever Cris Carpenter (10 wins) helped fill the void.

1992 Though injuries took a toll in the Cardinals' centennial season, the team actually led the N.L. East by one game on June 1, despite losing three players in the first week of the season. Injuries or illnesses continued to mount, however, as the team lost shortstop Ozzie Smith to chicken pox for two weeks in late June and Omar Olivares and Rheal Cormier from the starting rotation. At second base, seven players were used. Ray Lankford, moved from first to third in the order, became the first Cardinal since Lou Brock in 1967 to hit 20 homers and steal 20 bases. Ozzie Smith tied Felix Jose for the club lead in batting (.295) and stole a team-high 43 bases. The "Wizard" also collected his 2,000th career hit and 500th stolen base, besides earning his 12th All-Star Game berth and 13th Gold Glove. Bob Tewksbury emerged as the No. 1 starter, winning 16 games and ranking second in the majors with a 2.16 ERA. He joined Smith on the N.L. All-Star squad, as did catcher Tom Pagnozzi, who tied a league mark with a .999 fielding average, and reliever Lee Smith, who led the league in saves (43) for the second straight season. Smith received help in the bullpen from Todd Worrell, who, after missing the last two seasons to injury, moved into the top spot on the Cards' all-time saves list. The team's major league record 16-game errorless streak in August helped establish a club record for fielding (.985). On the down side, the Redbirds set records for most strikeouts and caught stealing in a season. Moving the fences in proved beneficial. The Cards set a Busch Stadium season high while out-homering opponents, 55-52.

1993 Helped by a 20-7 mark in June (a club record for the month) and a potent offense, the Cardinals closed to within three games of the front-running Philadelphia Phillies in mid-July, only to fall 10 games back by the end of August. Midseason injuries to relievers Mike Perez, Les Lancaster and Paul Kilgus put the pitching staff on the skids. Offensively, several players enjoyed banner seasons, reflected by the team's 118 home runs, the most in 30 years. Newcomer Gregg Jefferies finished third in the N.L. batting race at .342 and swiped 46 bases, the most ever by a Cardinal first baseman. Mark Whiten cracked a team-high 25 home runs, including four in the second game of a September 7 double-header at Cincinnati, thus becoming only the 12th player to accomplish the feat. His 12 RBI in the game tied former Cardinal Jim Bottomley's major league record. For the season, Whiten finished with 99 RBI. Todd Zeile drove in 60 after the All-Star break, finishing with a team-high 103 RBI as he settled into the cleanup spot. Bernard Gilkey enjoyed a breakthrough season, leading the club in hits, extra-base hits and runs scored. Ozzie Smith recorded his 16th-straight 20-steal season and passed Larry Bowa to become the all-time N.L. leader in games played at shortstop. Gerald Perry tied a club record with 24 pinch-hits. Though the pitching was largely inconsistent, Bob Tewksbury led the staff with a career-best 17 wins and walked only 20 batters for the second straight season. Cuban rookie Rene Arocha ranked second on the staff with 11 wins, despite missing nearly a month with a broken finger. Reliever Lee Smith became the majors' career saves leader in April and set a club record for career saves (160) before being traded to the New York Yankees in late August. The Cards slipped defensively, committing 159 errors and failing to place a member on the Rawlings' Gold Glove team for the first time since 1977.

1994 The season started with a bang when Ray Lankford homered in the first at-bat of the schedule, but a players' strike in mid-August forced the cancellation of the remainder of the season and the World Series, ending the year in tragic fashion. When play was suspended on August 12, the Redbirds were 53-61 and tied with Pittsburgh for third place in the newly formed N.L. Central Division. The club's 5.14 ERA was its worst since 1897, and the opposition outscored the Cards by nearly 100 runs. A seven-game winning streak by Bob Tewksbury and a consecutive-game homer streak of 12 games highlighted the early portion of the schedule, helping the club stay within five games of first place through July 2. The Cardinals were involved in 14 shutouts and, despite inconsistent pitching, won seven of them. They tied an N.L. record by using six pitchers in a shutout (2-0) win at Pittsburgh on May 17. On May 24 against Philadelphia, they established a record for most runners left on base (16) in a shutout loss. The Cardinals blasted 108 home runs, exceeding the 100-homer plateau for just the second time since 1980, and were on pace to hit their most round-trippers since 1963. They hit a Busch Stadium-record five home runs in a July 1 win vs. Colorado. An 8-20 record in July included two of the team's lowest moments: On July 16 at Colorado, Cardinal pitchers walked a team-record 16 batters, one short of the N.L. record, and on July 18, the team tied an N.L. mark by losing an 11-run lead in its 15-12 loss at Houston. Ozzie Smith passed Luis Aparicio on July 14 to become baseball's all-time assist leader at shortstop. On September 1, Mark Lamping was appointed president, replacing the retiring Stuart Meyer. Lamping named Walt Jocketty general manager in October, replacing Dal Maxvill, who had held the title since 1985. Hall of Famers Bob Gibson and Lou Brock were named to manager Joe Torre's coaching staff for 1995.

1995 The season was disappointing in most respects, with the Cardinals posting a 62-81 mark and their worst winning percentage (.434) since 1990. The schedule was reduced to 144 games due to the players' strike that continued into the first week of April. Once play began on April 26, the Cardinals never challenged for the NL Central lead. On June 16, Manager Joe Torre was fired and replaced by Mike Jorgensen. Although the team languished near the Central Division basement, there were a number of individual highlights. Reliever Tom Henke saved 36 of 38 opportunities, including a team-record 22 straight to begin the season, and won his first Rolaids Relief title. He also notched his 300th career save, becoming the seventh pitcher to reach that plateau. Henke headlined a bullpen that led the NL with a 2.71 ERA and a .225 opponents' batting mark. Rich DeLucia topped the team with eight wins (the lowest-ever total to lead the club), all in relief. While starters Danny Jackson and Ken Hill failed to fulfill expectations, Mike Morgan, who was acquired in a June trade for Todd Zeile, gave the Busch Stadium crowd a night to remember on July 3 when he held Montreal hitless for 8.1 innings. On offense, the Cardinals' outfield trio of Bernard Gilkey (a team-high .298 BA), Ray Lankford (25 HRs, 82 RBIs) and Brian Jordan (22 HRs, 81 RBIs) led the way. Lankford's team-high 25 homers were the most ever by a Cards center fielder, and he tied Jordan for the team lead with 24 steals, thus becoming only the fifth Cardinal and the first since 1948 to lead the team in both home runs and steals. Jordan and Lankford also formed the Redbirds' first 20-homer tandem since 1980. First baseman/outfielder John Mabry (.307) narrowly missed qualifying for the NL Top 10 in batting, but his average topped all NL rookies and earned him a spot on the Topps All-Rookie team. Ozzie Smith, who was slowed by a shoulder injury, added to his collection of fielding records on Sept. 15 when he turned his 1,554th double play, an all-time high among shortstops. He also became the first big-league shortstop since 1950 to play at the age of 40 and the first Cardinal shortstop to do so since 1918. Off the bench, veteran Gerald Perry became the club's all-time pinch-hit leader (70), rookie Mark Sweeney hit in seven straight pinch at-bats (one short of the major league record) and Danny Sheaffer hit the Cards' first pinch grand slam in nearly 10 years. The Cardinals took part in two bizarre games at Dodger Stadium: on May 12 they committed seven errors, their highest single-game total since 1940, and on Aug. 10 they recorded a 2-1 forfeit win, the first forfeited game in the majors since 1979. A busy off-season included the hiring of Tony La Russa as manager and the announced sale of the club to a group of long-time Cardinals fans led by William DeWitt Jr., Fred Hanser and Andrew Baur. The Busch Stadium playing surface was changed from artificial turf to natural grass prior to the 1996 season.

1996 With new ownership, new Manager Tony LaRussa and a variety of new players in place, the Cardinals made their first postseaon appearance since 1987. The year also marked the end of an era, as shortstop Ozzie Smith completed his 19th and final major league campaign. The Cardinals began their climb to their first N.L. Central Division title after falling nine games below .500 following a series sweep by Colorado in mid-May. They rebounded with a sweep of the division-rival Astros in Houston, went on to record a 17-10 mark in June and reached the All-Star break tied for the division lead. The race remained close until Labor Day weekend, when the Redbirds swept three games from the first-place Astros to take over the division lead for good. Right fielder Brian Jordan led the league with a .422 batting average with runners in scoring position and teamed with center fielder Ray Lankford, the N.L. fielding leader, to provide dazzling outfield defense. New left fielder Ron Gant led the team with 30 homers despite missing over a month to injury. Brothers Andy (18-10) and Alan Benes (13-10) combined for 31 wins, and newcomer Todd Stottlemyre fashioned 14 victories in his first N.L. season. Lefthander Donovan Osborne won a career-high 13 games. The bullpen was anchored by relief ace Dennis Eckersley, who saved 30 games in 34 tries. Fan-favorite Willie McGee returned to the club after five years with San Francisco and Boston and batted .307, including .350 in the pinch. The season also featured many record-setting achievements: The Cards tied a 56-year-old club record with a seven-homer game (July 12 at Chicago); the pitching staff recorded a team-record 1,050 strikeouts; and Willie McGee's five-RBI inning tied Chick Hafey's 1930 mark. The team retired the uniform numbers of Red Schoendienst (2), Enos Slaughter (9) and Ozzie Smith (1). The Cardinals swept a best-of-five Division Series from San Diego to begin the postseason. After taking a 3-1 lead over defending World Series champion Atlanta in the NLCS, the Cardinals lost three straight.

1997 After beginning the season with a six-game losing streak, the Cardinals never climbed above .500 and finished in fourth place with a 73-89 record, 11 games behind division-winner Houston. The Redbirds did manage to take sole possession of first place for two days (July 2-3), and their high-water mark for the season was an even .500 (41-41). But after trailing first-place Pittsburgh by only two games at the All-Star break, the Cardinals dropped to 7-1/2 back by the end of July. During the course of the season, the Cardinals set several club records. They used a record 51 players (including 24 pitchers), swatted a franchise-record 144 round-trippers (one more than their 1955 total of 143), and established team highs in strikeouts — at the plate (1,191) and on the mound (1,130). Ray Lankford, who missed the first two weeks of the season while recovering from shoulder surgery, emerged as a star-caliber player, leading the team with a career-high 31 homers and career-best 98 RBI. Slugger Mark McGwire arrived July 31 and belted 24 home runs as a Cardinal, including 15 in September. He finished with 58 homers, tying the major league record for righthanded hitters. McGwire became just the second player, next to Babe Ruth, to record 50 or more homers in consecutive seasons. Big Mac finished the year by homering in 12 consecutive series, but none of those blasts matched the flair of the 517-foot shot he launched above the left-field scoreboard in his first at-bat on Sept. 16, the day he announced he'd signed a multiyear contract with the club. Pitcher Matt Morris displayed much promise in his first season, leading N.L. rookie pitchers in wins (12), ERA (3.19), complete games (three), strikeouts (149), opponents' batting average (.258) and innings pitched (217). He topped the staff in victories and starts (33). Delino DeShields led the team in batting, hits (169), triples (14) and stolen bases (55). He was the first Cardinal since Lankford in 1991 to lead the league in triples. The Cards posted an 8-7 record against A.L. opponents in their first year of interleague play, sweeping a three-game series from Minnesota but losing three at Milwaukee. Before the season, the Cardinals added a hand-operated scoreboard in center field and moved the visitors' bullpen to right field.

1998 While Mark McGwire slugged his way to a record-setting season, the Cardinals finished in third place for the fifth time in the last decade, 19 games behind Central Division champion Houston. The 83-79 Cardinals jumped out of the gate strong, as McGwire began his march toward 70 home runs by going deep in each of the first four games, helping the Redbirds to a 16-11 record through April. As injuries took their toll, the Cardinals labored into the All-Star recess in fourth place, 12-1/2 games out of first, with a 40-46 record. The team wound up closing the season with a 43-33 record after the break, including an 18-7 mark in September, the franchise's best record in that month since moving into Busch Stadium in 1966. McGwire remained the center of attention throughout the year, captivating a national audience as he marched toward Roger Maris' 1961 single-season record of 61 homers. Big Mac eclipsed the record with his 62nd homer at 8:18 p.m. Central Time on Tuesday, Sept. 8. The record-breaking homer came with two outs in the fourth inning —a solo shot to left field off Cubs' righthander Steve Trachsel. McGwire set a bevy of records during his home run tour de force. He walked 162 times to set a new N.L. standard, averaged one home run every 7.27 at-bats to break his 1996 major league record of one homer every 8.13 at-bats, hit an N.L.-record 38 home runs at home and became the first player to hit at least 50 homers in three consecutive seasons. McGwire also set a club record for most home runs in one month when he hit 16 in May, became the first Cardinal to hit a grand slam on Opening Day, hit the longest home run in Busch Stadium history (an estimated 545 feet on May 16) and became the oldest player (34 years, 324 days) in major league history to hit as many as 50 homers in a season. Home run records weren't McGwire's exclusive domain, however, as the team collectively set a single-season club mark with 223 homers, most in the National League and second-most in N.L. history. The Cardinals hit 10 homers in the pinch, also a team record, and homered in a team-record 17 straight games (34 homers total) from May 7 to May 25. The lineup featured four players with at least 20 homers for the first time ever, with McGwire and the outfield trio of Ray Lankford (31 homers), Ron Gant (26) and Brian Jordan (25) making history. McGwire and Lankford combined for 101 home runs, becoming just the third pair of teammates in big-league history to top the century mark in one year. Lankford wound up with a career-high 105 RBI and became the all-time Busch Stadium home run leader, reaching 87 in his career. Outfielder J.D. Drew, the Cards' first selection (fifth overall) in the June amateur draft, signed a major league contract July 3 and made his big-league debut Sept. 8. On the pitching staff, 15 hurlers drew starting assignments, though the staff became more solidified in the second half as players returned from injuries. Righthander Matt Morris was activated from the disabled list on July 10 and led the staff after the All-Star break with seven wins and a 2.48 ERA. Cardinals fans turned out in record numbers, setting club home (3,194,092) and road (2,766,984) attendance marks. The club sold out its final 14 home games (the entire September home schedule).

1999 The Cardinals concluded the 20th century almost exactly the way they began it — their .466 winning percentage (75-86) in '99 was nearly identical to their .464 mark in 1900, and they finished 21½ games out of first place, slightly off their 19-game deficit 99 years earlier. Mark McGwire followed his record-setting 70-homer season of 1998 with a 65-homer campaign in 1999 and led the league with 147 RBIs. While extending his record string of consecutive 50-homer seasons to four, McGwire climbed 10 spots on the all-time home run list, moving into 10th place with 522 career blasts. He hit No. 500 on Aug. 5 off San Diego's Andy Ashby, reaching the plateau in the fewest at-bats (5,487) in big-league history. Third baseman Fernando Tatis enjoyed a banner offensive season that included a .298 batting average, 34 home runs and 107 RBIs. He also stole 21 bases to become just the fourth player (and first infielder) in Cardinals history to have a 20-homer/20-steal season. On April 23 Tatis became the first player to hit two grand slams in the same inning, connecting for both off the Dodgers' Chan Ho Park. Tatis' three grand slams during the year tied a club record, and his 34 homers were the most ever by a Redbirds third sacker. Joe McEwing's 25-game hitting streak from June 8 through July 4 established a club mark for rookies, ranking as the fifth-longest by a rookie in major league history. Shortstop Edgar Renteria led the team in games (154), at-bats (585), hits (161), doubles (36), and stolen bases (37). Pitcher Kent Bottenfield matched his career victory total by posting an 18-7 record. Bottenfield, who took a 14-3 record into his first career All-Star Game appearance, led the staff in wins, ERA (3.97), strikeouts (124) and starts (31). Rookie Jose Jimenez provided one of the season's other pitching success stories on June 25, when he no-hit Arizona, winning a 1-0 duel over the Diamondbacks' Randy Johnson. Jimenez became the 23rd rookie to toss a no-hitter and just the second Cardinals rookie to do so, after Paul Dean in 1934. Fan-favorite Willie McGee announced his retirement after the season, ending an 18-year major league career that included an N.L. MVP Award, two batting titles and 2,254 hits. Redbird fans again passed through the turnstiles at a record clip, breaking the team home (3,225,334) and road (2,820,564) attendance marks for the second consecutive season.

2000 Following a disappointing finish in 1999, General Manager Walt Jocketty immediately went to work and bolstered the team's pitching staff by trading for starters Darryl Kile and Pat Hentgen, and closer Dave Veres. He followed up those moves by dealing for second baseman Fernando Viña and by signing free-agent pitcher Andy Benes, who had departed St. Louis just two years earlier. Mid-way through spring training, Jocketty pulled off perhaps the year's biggest acquisition by trading pitcher Kent Bottenfield and second baseman Adam Kennedy to Anaheim in exchange for All-Star outfielder Jim Edmonds. The 2000 squad opened the season with a 7-1 win over rival Chicago on Opening Day and remained in first place for all but three days. By the All-Star break, the club held an eight-game lead over the Cincinnati Reds and ended the season as National League Central Division Champions, 10 games ahead of their closest pursuer. With a 95-67 record, the team became the 23rd in franchise history, and first since 1987, to reach the 90-win mark. The Cards packed a powerful punch in the season's early stages, smacking home runs at a record rate. Twenty-one different players homered for the Redbirds as they posted a team-record 235 homers on the year. Despite bouts with back and leg injuries, Mark McGwire began the season strong and was hitting .303 with 30 home runs by the All-Star break. A severe case of tendinitis in his right knee caused McGwire to remove himself from the game on July 6 and he never fully recovered the rest of the season. Edmonds took over as the team's offensive leader, batting .295 with 42 homers and 108 RBIs while also drawing strong MVP consideration. He also turned heads with his spectacular defensive play, earning his third Gold Glove award. Viña's .300 batting average led the team and he was hit by pitch a Major League-leading 28 times, the most by a Cardinal since 1910, when Steve Evans was hit a franchise-record 31 times. A trading deadline deal brought Will "The Thrill" Clark to St. Louis, and Clark, who announced his retirement following the season, sparked an offense that was sagging. He finished the season batting .345 with 12 homers and 42 RBIs in 51 games as a Redbird. Kile led the team with 20 wins, finishing second in the N.L. in victories while becoming the Cards first 20-game winner since 1985. Lefthanded rookie sensation Rick Ankiel finished second in Rookie of the Year balloting with an 11-7 record and a 3.50 ERA that was eighth among all N.L pitchers. Ankiel struck out a team-high 194 batters, breaking Dizzy Dean's Cardinals rookie record of 191 set in 1932. His strikeouts per nine innings ratio of 10.0 was second only to Arizona's Randy Johnson and his .219 opponents batting average was third in the league. Garrett Stephenson began the season with an eight-game winning streak and finished with a career-high 16 wins. Hentgen posted 15 wins while Andy Benes contributed 12. Catcher Mike Matheny, another off-season acquisition, was a controlling factor in the success of the pitching staff. He established career highs in nearly every offensive category, but it was his defense that was most noticeable. Matheny threw out a remarkable 51% (46-for-90) of opposing base stealers which ranked first in the Majors and helped earn him his first Gold Glove award. His season came to an unfortunate and abrupt end on September 29, when he severed two flexor tendons and a nerve in his right ring finger while accidentally cutting himself on a knife. He underwent surgery and missed the remainder of the season and all of the postseason. Edmonds, McGwire and Kile were each named to the N.L. All-Star team, but due to his injury, McGwire could not appear and shortstop Edgar Renteria was named as his replacement. Renteria had one of the best all-around seasons ever by a Cardinals shortstop, setting career highs in home runs (16 - the most ever by a Cardinals' shortstop), RBI (76) and runs scored (94) and he proved to be one of the most consistent players for the club during the postseason. His .423 slugging percentage earned him the N.L. Silver Slugger at shortstop. For the 17th time, and the second time in five years under La Russa's helm, the Cards advanced to the postseason. St. Louis first met the Atlanta Braves in the Division Series, a team that had won its division nine out of the past 10 seasons. The Cards proved up to the task and quickly dispatched of the Braves, sweeping them in three games. The Cards moved on to face the New York Mets, a team that had tormented them all season. Aside from Andy Benes' strong Game 3 outing at New York, the Mets handled the short-handed Cardinals with ease by winning the best-of-seven series in five games. The Cardinals were without the services of McGwire, Matheny and Stephenson during the N.L.Championship Series. Following the season, Jocketty was cited as Executive of the Year by both Baseball America and The Sporting News for his keen acquisitions. He helped the Cardinals become the first club in baseball history to acquire a 20-game winner (Kile) and 40-homer player (Edmonds) in the same off-season. For the third-straight year the Cardinals set a new attendance record as 3.3 million fans visited Busch Stadium, selling out a club-record 37 games.

2001 The Cardinals, having posted 17-8 and 13-14 records the first two months of the 2000 season, juxtaposed that early-season pattern and sat in second place at the 2001 season's one-third mark. This time they went 12-12 in April, dropping into fifth place, before winning 10 consecutive games May 7-17 and vaulting briefly into first. A 1-8 road trip in early June was the primary cause of that month's 11-16 record, and by the All-Star break, the Cardinals were 43-43 and eight games behind division-leading Houston. That was still their situation, but with a 57-55 record, as they opened play August 9, before going on an 11-game win streak that triggered the club's postseason drive. The pair of double-figure win streaks were the first for a Cardinal ballclub in the same season since 1941. For all of the stars who made the 2001 Cardinal season what it was, perhaps most prominent was the newest, Albert Pujols. Pujols made the opening-day roster, the result of Bobby Bonilla suffering a strained left hamstring March 24 that forced the veteran to the disabled list, and the 21-year-old Pujols made the most of his opportunity. Pujols, primarily been a third baseman who had appeared in 133 games with three minor-league clubs as a first-year professional in 2000, hit a National League-record eight April home runs and never looked back. Pujols was the first Cardinal rookie selected for the All-Star Game since left-handed pitcher Luis Arroyo in 1955 and the first to play since third baseman Eddie Kazak in 1949. He went on to play in 161 games, drew 154 starts at four different positions, and batted .329 with a Cardinal rookie-record 37 home runs and an NL rookie-record 130 runs batted in. His club Triple Crown was the first by a Cardinal since Ted Simmons in 1973 and the first by a Cardinal rookie since Rogers Hornsby in 1916. He broke three NL rookie batting records, set or tied seven club rookie marks and earned unanimous selection as NL Rookie of the Year. Finishing among the league leaders in no fewer than 10 offensive categories, he became the first Cardinal rookie chosen to the Silver Slugger team, as well as finishing fourth in voting for the Most Valuable Player award. Mark McGwire hit 29 home runs in 299 at-bats and played in 97 games in his final major-league season. The first baseman hit the 583rd home run of his career, and 220th as a Cardinal, October 4 at Milwaukee, three days after his 39th birthday, and while continuing to have difficulties with his right knee. Centerfielder Jim Edmonds, who finished fifth in the league with 12 assists and continued adding to his collection of spectacular catches, won his fourth Gold Glove Award in five seasons. Edmonds kept up his end at the plate, too, hitting .304 with 30 homers and 110 RBI, including a .373 average with 14 homers and 69 RBI in his last 44 games. Second baseman Fernando Vina, who committed just nine errors in 151 games and whose .987 fielding percentage was good enough for a second straight NL fielding crown, won his first Gold Glove. The fourth Cardinal with a .300-plus qualifying average, Placido Polanco, hit .307 and led the club with 21 three-hit games. His 20-game hitting streak, July 21 to August 11, was club's longest, and the league's third-longest, of 2001. J.D. Drew suffered a broken finger when he was hit by a pitch June 17, but still managed to finish the season batting .323 with 27 homers and 73 RBI. Matt Morris, back in the starting rotation two years after elbow surgery, became the Cardinals' first 22-game winner since Bob Gibson recorded 23 victories in 1970, in addition to tying Arizona's Curt Schilling for the major-league lead in wins. Morris netted his first All-Star Game selection and was named NL Comeback Player of the Year. The veteran righthander also tallied a record 15 Busch Stadium victories, surpassing John Tudor's 1984 total of 14. Darryl Kile added 16 victories. Lefthander reliever Steve Kline made a club-record 89 appearances and posted a 1.80 ERA, second-best among NL relievers. Pitcher Gene Stechschulte figured in the mix offensively, hitting the first pitch ever delivered to him as major-league batsman for a pinch-hit home run, April 17 against Armando Reynoso of Arizona. He became the fifth Cardinal ever, but the third in less than 12 months, to homer in his first major-league at-bat. In addition to becoming the 16th player to hit a career first-pitch homer, he was also the 13th big-leaguer to pinch-homer in his first at bat. Lefthander Bud Smith made his big-league debut June 10 and won his first start June 17 against the White Sox. Smith and Woody Williams, an August 2 acquisition from the Padres for Ray Lankford, combined to win all seven of their September outings. In the first of these starts, September 3 at San Diego, Smith walked four but recorded seven strikeouts and posted the ninth no-hit game in club history. Two nights later, Williams tossed a two-hit shutout to complete a three-game sweep of the Padres, which triggered an 18-3 run bringing the Cardinals into a tie for first place. Williams went 7-1 in 11 Cardinal starts and was named the NL Pitcher of the Month for September. The club went 17-5 in September, then, with a 5-1 win at Milwaukee October 2, the club's 34th win in 45 games, tied the Astros for the Central Division lead. The Cardinals finished 93-69 and co-owners of the first shared championship in major-league history, although having lost the season series to the Astros, the Cardinals assumed the position of wild-card qualifier to the N.L postseason field. Williams and Smith followed up their September efforts and claimed victories in the second and fourth games, respectively, of the Division Series against Arizona. Morris followed up his outstanding season by holding Arizona to two runs over 15 innings in two starts. However, he lost 1-0 in the series opener and then, after Drew's game-tying home run in the eighth inning of the deciding fifth game, watched Arizona score a run in the ninth for a 2-1 win.

2002 The Cardinals enjoyed another strong second-half surge and, with 97 wins, secured a third consecutive N.L. Central Division title. It was the club's third straight 90-win season, the first such streak for St. Louis since the 1941-46 teams recorded a club-record six consecutive 90-win campaigns. It was a team that scored enough runs and received enough pitching and defense to win 97 games and enough points for intestinal fortitude, overcoming adversity - overcoming tragedy - to win the hearts of baseball fans everywhere. Albert Pujols deftly avoided the sophomore jinx en route to a runner-up finish in balloting for the National League Most Valuable Player award. The 22-year-old placed second in the N.L. with 127 runs batted in and 118 runs scored in addition to posting several other top-10 performances, including a .314 batting average and 34 home runs. Centerfielder Jim Edmonds finished among league leaders with a .311 batting average, .420 slugging average and .561 on-base percentage. He tallied 28 homers and 83 RBI although slowed by a wrist injury in June. Edgar Renteria hit 11 home runs, stole 22 bases and led N.L. shortstops with a .305 batting average and 82 of his 83 RBI, tying Doc Lavan's 1921 club record. On July 28, the Cardinals traded utility infielder Placido Polanco, along with pitchers Mike Timlin and Bud Smith, to the Phillies for cash, minor-league pitcher Doug Nickel and All-Star third baseman Scott Rolen. Rolen cracked 14 home runs and had 44 RBI in 55 games for St. Louis. He was one of eight Cardinals to tally double-figure home run totals. The lineup also produced plenty of defensive support. Edmonds, Renteria, Rolen and Vina became the first quartet of Cardinals to be awarded Gold Gloves since 1963. Further, Renteria and Rolen won Silver Slugger awards in addition to their Gold Gloves, making them the first Cardinal teammates to each win both honors in the same season. Cardinal pitchers, a club-record 26 in all, managed a 3.70 earned-run average fourth in the N.L., in spite of adversity that could have destroyed the mettle of most major-league ballclubs. The third week in June would test the staff's, and the club's, resolve as never before. Hall of Fame broadcaster Jack Buck died June 18 after a lengthy period of illness. Darryl Kile, the Cardinals' winning pitcher against Anaheim the night of Buck's passing, was himself found dead in a Chicago hotel room June 22. Despite losing five of their seven remaining games in June, the Cardinals would go 57-34 after Kile's death. A big part of that success was due to the efforts of those 26 pitchers, seven of whom (including five projected starters) spent time on the disabled list, in addition to the death of Kile. Of the 14 Cardinals who made at least one start, just three had a starter's winning percentage below .500. Matt Morris finished sixth in the league with 17 wins. Jason Simontacchi, a 28-year-old rookie righthander who was recalled May 3, won his first five decisions and went on to record 11 victories. Andy Benes, who had missed the first half due to a recurrent knee injury, went 5-2 in 15 starts of which the Cardinals won 11. His 1.86 ERA was the best post-All Star break figure in the majors. Chuck Finley, picked up from Cleveland in a July 19 trade, went 7-4 and held opponents to a .219 batting average. Twenty of the 26 hurlers contributed to a relief corps that finished with a 3.08 ERA. Free-agent acquisition Jason Isringhausen saved 32 games. Another righty, rookie set-up man Mike Crudale, recorded a 1.88 ERA in 49 appearances. He, too, would be augmented down the stretch by another veteran lefthander, Jeff Fassero, who went 3-0 in 16 appearances after joining the club in an August 25 trade from the Cubs. The Cardinals clinched the Central Division championship September 20 with a 9-3 win over Houston and would go on to establish a 13-game margin over the Astros one year after the teams shared divisional honors. The .655 winning percentage over the final three months would lead to Tony LaRussa being named N.L. Manager of the Year. St. Louis avenged a ninth-inning, fifth-game loss in the 2001 Division Series to Arizona with a three-game sweep. Vina led the offensive attack by stroking nine hits, all singles, to break Edmonds' Major League Division Series hits record. The pitching staff allowed four earned runs in the three games. Without the services of Rolen, unavailable following a collision in Division Series Game Two, the Cardinal offense struggled in the N.L. Championship Series against San Francisco. Following a 9-6 loss in the opening game at Busch Stadium, the Redbirds would score only 10 runs over the next four contests. The last three games were each decided by one run, as the Giants won the NLCS, 4-1.

2003 The National League's second-best offense and the franchise's best-ever defense kept St. Louis in many games, but due to a rash of injuries to the pitching staff, it became a struggle to stay in playoff contention. The Cardinals won 16 games in both June and August to finish each month with a one-game lead in the N.L. Central Division. However, 10 losses in the first 14 games of September proved too much for St. Louis to overcome. Even a 9-3 finish was not enough as the club's last loss, September 26 at Arizona, eliminated the Cardinals from vying for what would have been a club-record fourth consecutive postseason appearance. The Cardinals batted .279, scored 876 runs (third-most in club history) and hit 196 home runs (fourth-most). Albert Pujols led the league in seven offensive categories and rode a Triple Crown candidacy to the point of recording top-five finishes on the three major lists. He led the N.L. with a .359 batting average, the highest for a Cardinal since Joe Torre hit .363 in 1971, and became the 10th different Cardinal (22nd time) to win a batting crown. The left fielder's league-leading 212 hits were the most for a St. Louis player since Willie McGee had 216 in 1985. Three other league-high figures for Pujols each represented a 50-year-plus club best: 51 doubles, most by a Cardinal since Stan Musial's 53 in 1953; 394 total bases, fourth-most in club history and most since Musial's 429 in 1948; 137 runs, most since Rogers Hornsby scored 141 in 1922; and a 30-game hitting streak, July 12 through August 16, longest since Musial's 30-game streak in 1950. Pujols' 124 runs batted in were the fewest of his first three big-league seasons, but he countered that with a career-high 43 home runs - equaling the third-highest longball tally in club history. Pujols was named The Sporting News Major League Player of the Year and the winner of the Hank Aaron Award, presented by the Office of the Commissioner, to the outstanding player in the major leagues as voted on by the game's broadcasters. Centerfielder Jim Edmonds needed just 137 games to hit 39 home runs and join Pujols as the first Cardinal teammates to each hit 35 homers in a season. Third baseman Scott Rolen drove in 104 runs – his third straight triple-digit RBI campaign – and smacked a career-high 49 doubles. Edgar Renteria drove in a Cardinals' shortstop record 100 runs, becoming the first N.L. shortstop to do so since Montreal's Hubie Brooks in 1985. Renteria also delivered a career-best 47 doubles and claimed the N.L. Silver Slugger award. Pujols, Rolen and Renteria all finished in the top seven in the league in doubles and became the first trio of Cardinals to each hit 40 two-baggers since Enos Slaughter, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize did so in 1939. Successive June injuries to Fernando Vina and Miguel Cairo allowed Bo Hart a shot at second base and he made the most of it. The 26-year-old debuted June 19 and opened his career with a seven-game hitting streak and with multiple hits in seven of his first nine contests. He also shined in the field as he committed just four errors in 69 games at second. As a team the Cardinals committed just 77 errors – the fewest in club history – and only 26 in 68 games after the All-Star Break. Catcher Mike Matheny, first baseman Tino Martinez and outfielder Orlando Palmeiro won their respective N.L. fielding championships. Matheny's 138 errorless games, handling 823 chances, gave him the first-ever qualifying 1.000 fielding percentage for a Cardinal backstop. Palmeiro, in 112 outfield appearances, also played error free, the second-longest such season for a Cardinal outfielder behind Curt Flood's 159-game perfect season in 1966. Edmonds, Matheny, Renteria and Rolen gave the Cards a quartet of Gold Glovers for the second straight year. The pitching staff allowed a club-record 210 home runs as injuries precluded the seasons of Chris Carpenter and Gene Stechschulte and interrupted those of starter Matt Morris and relievers Kiko Calero, Russ Springer, Lance Painter and, most crucially during the season's first two months, closer Jason Isringhausen. Isringhausen still managed to earn 22 saves. But the Cardinals' pitching staff did have some memorable highlights. Woody Williams, who opened the season with a career-high 25-inning scoreless streak and eventually won his first seven decisions, finished as N.L. co-runner-up with 18 victories. Morris, out for a month after suffering a broken bone in his right hand trying to field a line drive July 21, still managed to become the first Redbird to hurl three shutouts in a season since Jose DeLeon and Joe Magrane each did so in 1989. Morris won 11 games, and had career-bests with a 23-inning scoreless streak in late August and early September, and a three-hitter in a September 7 shutout of Cincinnati. Brett Tomko equaled a career high with 13 wins, including 11 in his last 15 decisions. Veteran lefthander Sterling Hitchcock, acquired from the Yankees in an August 22 trade, went 5-1, including a 4-1 mark in six starts down the stretch. For the first time since 1985, the Cardinals sent a five-player contingent to the All-Star Game. Rolen, Renteria and Pujols were elected to the starting lineup, as Pujols and Rolen ranked first and second, respectively, among fan voting in the N.L. Edmonds was named a reserve, then, the starter in center when the Giants' Barry Bonds was moved into the designated hitter role. In fact, Renteria, Edmonds and Pujols were the 1-2-3 hitters in the N. L. lineup. Williams, who at the break was tied for the league lead with 12 wins and seventh with a 3.01 ERA, represented the pitching staff. Tony La Russa became the eighth manager to win 2,000 games with a 10-2 home victory over Colorado on September 10.

2004 The Cardinals started play May 27 fifth in the N.L. Central Division with a record of 23-22, but won 12 of their next 16 games to land in first place on June 11, a spot the team wouldn't relinquish the rest of the season. That sprint kicked off a three-month run during which St. Louis won 25 of 29 series en route to a 69-22 mark – 38-9 at Busch Stadium - and a 17 fi-game lead on September 5. The Cards earned their fifth postseason berth in Manager Tony LaRussa's nine seasons September 18, and wrapped up their fourth division title, third outright, in five years September 20. Three days later, the Cardinals secured their seventh 100-win season and first since 1985. Another three days later, they increased their record to 51 games above .500 for the first time since 1944. St. Louis finished with the Major Leagues' best record for 2004 tallying 105 wins, most by the Cardinals in sixty years and tied for second-most in club history, and a .648 winning percentage, fifth-highest ever by the Redbirds. They scored the most runs of any major-league club and allowed the fewest and led the National League with a .278 batting average, .460 slugging average, 855 runs scored, 1544 base hits and a club-record 70 sacrifice flies. The lineup featured four .300 hitters, led by Albert Pujols, who finished fifth in the N.L. with a .331 batting average. In addition, Scott Rolen hit .314, Tony Womack, who won the second-base job in spring training, hit. 307, and Jim Edmonds batted .301. Pujols, Rolen and Edmonds finished 3-4-5 in balloting for the National League Most Valuable Player award, the Cardinals' first top-five trio in the MVP race since 1946. They also finished in the top six in the N.L. in RBI – Rolen second with a career-high 124, Pujols third with 123 and Edmonds sixth with a personal-best 111 – becoming the second triage of Cardinals to each drive in 100 runs in the same season. All three also scored 100 runs – Pujols touching home a major-league leading 133 times, Rolen ranking eighth in the N.L. with 109 runs, and Edmonds finishing with 102. Pujols was a co-runner-up in the majors with 46 home runs including a league-high 28 road blasts. With 51 doubles, second-most in the big leagues, he became the second Cardinal to record back-to-back 50-double seasons, as he led four Redbirds with 30 doubles and seven with 20. He became the first player to open a major-league career with four straight 30-homer seasons and the fourth to start a career with four consecutive 100-RBI campaigns. Additionally, the first baseman led the majors with 99 extra-base hits and 389 total bases, and placed ninth (fifth in the N.L.) with 196 hits. Edmonds' 42 homers tied for fifth in the senior circuit and gave the Cardinals their first-ever pair of 40 home-run hitters. Rolen, with 34 home runs, was the Cardinals third 30-HR man, another club record. Reggie Sanders, with 22 home runs, helped the Cardinals tie a club record as their fourth 20-home run hitter, and set a Major League record of his own by recording a 20-homer season for a sixth different franchise. The Cardinals acquired Larry Walker from Colorado August 6 and, after having hit his first two Cardinal home runs on a road trip, made his first two at Busch Stadium grand slams on August 17 and August 22. Walker batted .280 for St. Louis with 27 RBI in 44 games. He hit 11 home runs and on September 22, became the seventh player to hit double-figure homers for the 2004 Cardinals. A pair of rookies even joined in the fun, as infielder Hector Luna homered April 8 in his first major-league at-bat, and Yadier Molina debuted June 3 and hit his first home run September 23. Edgar Renteria, Pujols and Rolen were elected to the All-Star Game, batted 1-2-4 atop the N.L. batting order, and responded with a four-for-seven performance. Pujols doubled and scored in the first and doubled home a pair of runs in the fourth, Renteria scoring one of those after he had doubled in a run, and Rolen singled in his only plate appearance. As with previous championship clubs the Redbirds were bolstered by strong pitching. They just missed out on the N.L. ERA title, 3.746 to Atlanta's 3.743, a two-out, ninth-inning run by Milwaukee on the season's final day proving decisive. The Cardinals allowed a .251 batting average, second-lowest in the majors, and 2.72 walks per nine innings, second-fewest in the N.L. The pitching staff had four 15-game winners. Free-agent signee Jeff Suppan led the way with 16 wins, good for a fifth-place tie in the N.L. Jason Marquis won 11 consecutive decisions during the Cardinals' long midseason run to glory and his 15-7 record landed him ninth in the league in winning percentage. Amongst 15 wins, Matt Morris tossed a pair of shutouts, one of just nine N.L. starters to do so, among three complete games, sixth most in the league. Chris Carpenter, having recovered from shoulder surgery, went 15-5 and posted the second-highest winning percentage among N.L. starters. He also led the rotation with a career-best 3.46 ERA. Woody Williams tacked on another 11 wins for a rotation that combined for a record of 72-39 and missed just eight starts. Dan Haren split four decisions in five appearances as the club's sixth starter in addition to his second-half role in the bullpen -- a bullpen that held opponents to a 3.01 ERA and a .225 batting average. Ray King and Steve Kline gave the Cardinals an important double-lefthanded setup combination. King, acquired with Marquis in the Drew-Marrero trade, led the staff with 86 appearances, won five games and allowed a .197 batting average and one home run in 62 innings. Kiko Calero returned after missing the second half of 2003 with a right knee injury and joined Cal Eldred and Julian Tavarez to give the Redbirds solid righthanded middle relief. The St. Louis bullpen earned 31 wins and, through five different pitchers, tallied a club-record 57 saves; one for Eldred, two for Calero, three for Kline, four for Tavarez and a co-league leading 47 for Jason Isringhausen. Good fielding compliments good pitching and the Cardinals once again had plenty of defense. Catcher Mike Matheny won his third Gold Glove, committing one error in 801 chances to win the N.L. fielding title and yielded two passed balls in 122 games. That error, on August 4, ended the longest errorless streak ever by a major-league backstop, 252 games and 1,565 chances over 2,043 innings and two years, three days. Rolen missed 16 games in September with calf and shin injuries yet led all major-league third baseman with 325 assists, many of the spectacular variety, as he won his sixth Gold Glove. Edmonds tied for sixth among N.L. outfielders, and shared the major-league centerfield lead, with 11 assists in addition to making numerous highlight-reel catches on the way to winning his seventh Gold Glove. The Cardinals kept up the pace on all fronts in a three-game-to-one Division Series triumph over Los Angeles before winning a classic seven-game N.L. Championship Series over Houston to claim the first league title for St. Louis since 1987. St. Louis hit 18 home runs and scored 56 runs in 11 N.L. postseason contests, outhitting their opposition .255 to .217, while the defense committed just one error. Pujols hit a Cardinal postseason-record six home runs, four in the NLCS. He also batted .500 and drove in nine runs against the Astros and was named series MVP. His last RBI was a game-tying double in Game Seven followed immediately by a two-run homer by Rolen that proved to be the pennant-winner.

2005 The defending National League champions recorded five fewer wins than in 2004, and they were in first place from April 16 to the end of the season. It was a steadier course that the St. Louis club followed in 2005, posting records of eight games over .500 in three of the six months, en route to a 100-62 record in the Redbirds' 40th and final season in Busch Stadium. St. Louis posted matching 50-31 records at and away from Busch, the home efforts to the delight of the club-record 3,538,948 fans who flocked to Busch to witness the Cardinals claim a fifth Central Division title in six years and their sixth division crown in 10 seasons under Tony La Russa. The Cardinal skipper equaled and surpassed Whitey Herzog as the franchise's second-winningest field manager with wins against the Pirates May 23-24, then used a pair of wins at Pittsburgh August 24-25 to tie and pass Sparky Anderson for third place on Major League Baseball's all-time managerial wins list. It was a year in which the Cardinals' stars got the maximum credit for the efforts. Albert Pujols became the first Cardinal to be named N.L. Most Valuable Player since Willie McGee in 1985 and Chris Carpenter won the first Cy Young Award claimed by a St. Louis hurler since Bob Gibson won the honor in 1970. The MVP/Cy Young combo was the first for the ballclub since Gibson won both awards in 1968. Of course, there are always many contributors to an offense when it finishes tied for the fewest times shut out in the league with six, second with a .270 batting average, third with 805 runs and a .339 on-base percentage, and fourth with a .423 slugging average, all in a season in which the Cardinals named 10 different starting clean-up hitters, and 13 apiece at the fifth and sixth positions, in the process of utilizing 139 different starting lineups. The lineup always helps itself with solid defense, especially in a year that featured a club-record and major-league leading 196 double plays. At the top of the order was shortstop David Eckstein, a free-agent acquisition from Anaheim. Eckstein's name was on the top line of the Cardinal lineup card for 154 regular-season games as he led the league with a .373 batting average with runners in scoring position, highlighted by the eighth walk-off grand slam in club history August 7 vs. Atlanta. Eckstein also tied for the league-lead with 57 multi-hit games and had career highs of 185 base hits - sixth in the league - and a .294 batting average. He augmented his six N.L. offensive top-10 finishes by ranking second among the league's shortstops with 123 double plays. Mark Grudzielanek became the third different opening-day starter at second base in three seasons, leading the league with a .990 fielding percentage and was in on a major-league high 108 double plays. He batted .294 (.316 after the All-Star Break), placing third on the club with 30 doubles, and hit for the cycle April 27 against Milwaukee. Pujols finished in the top five in the league in 12 different categories, leading the N.L. with 129 runs, 27 intentional walks and, with 57 multi-hit games, joined Eckstein to give the Cards two-thirds of a three-way tie for that leadership. He was the Senior Circuit's runner-up with 360 total bases as well as in all three major averages, hitting .330, slugging .609 and a .430 on-base percentage. He finished third with 81 extra-base hits, 41 home runs and 117 runs batted in and even led the club in stolen bases with 16 in 18 tries. Three players lost notable playing time to injuries and the Cardinals got increased contributions from four different players. Scott Rolen played in just 56 contests before undergoing surgery July 25 to repair the labrum in his left shoulder. Reggie Sanders missed 54 games recovering from a broken leg suffered in a July 15 outfield collision with Jim Edmonds. Larry Walker saw action in all but nine games by the end of May before being reduced to playing just nine games in August due to persistent neck and back ailments. Abraham Nunez played in a career-high 139 games, starting 100, 77 at third, 15 at second and eight at short. At the plate, Nunez enjoyed a career year, with personal bests of a .285 average, 64 runs, 120 hits (including a club-leading 25 infield), five home runs, 44 RBI and 37 walks. John

Mabry made 54 starts at four different positions, but made his biggest contribution off the bench leading the club's pinch-hitting charts with 39 appearances and nine hits. Hector Luna also made starts at four different positions, 32 in all, and saw action at a club-leading six different positions. So Taguchi played in a professional career-high 143 games, and established personal Major League bests with eight home runs, 53 RBI, 45 runs, 114 hits and 11 stolen bases. Ninth-year minor-league veteran outfielder John Rodriguez, who had 17 home runs in 34 games at Memphis after being acquired from the Cleveland organization in a June trade, took over for Sanders. Not that Edmonds, Sanders and Walker didn't do their part for the cause - in fact, they became the first Cardinal starting outfield to all homer on Opening Day. Edmonds finished second on the club with 37 doubles, 29 home runs and 89 RBI, and tied for eighth in the league with 91 walks. He had six assists while committing two errors in 139 appearances in center field to win his eighth career Gold Glove and sixth in six seasons as a Cardinal. Sanders, limited to 93 games, hit 21 home runs - his fifth straight 20-homer season – and in 81 games in the outfield matched Edmonds' six assists and two errors. Walker, in his 17th major-league season, hit .289 with 15 homers and 52 RBI in 100 games. Yadier Molina recovered from a .162 batting average in April to become the fifth Cardinal catcher to hit home runs in three consecutive games, June 24-26. Then, after missing 33 games when his wrist was broken by a Claudio Vargas pitch July 7 at Arizona, returned to hit .467 with runners in scoring position over the balance of the regular season. It takes many solid arms for a pitching staff to lead the major-leagues with a 3.49 earned-run average and 15 complete games, finish second with 14 shutouts and give the second fewest walks (443; 2.76 per nine innings). Chris Carpenter enjoyed his first uninterrupted season since 2001 to the fullest, working an average 7.1 innings during his 33 starts and sharing the N.L. lead with seven complete games. He won 13 consecutive decisions June 14 to September 8 en route to 21 victories, a career high and second-most in the league, along with an .808 win percentage, four shutouts, 241.2 innings and 213 strikeouts. The 30-year-old righthander placed fifth with a 2.83 ERA, and yielded a .231 batting average and 1.9 walks per nine innings, each seventh in the league. Mark Mulder, acquired in a trade from Oakland, tallied 16 wins including a pair of shutouts. The first came April 23 vs. Houston' Roger Clemens, when Mulder tossed a 10-inning five-hitter and took away a 1-0 victory, becoming the first Cardinal starter in 19 years to win an extra-inning start. Jeff Suppan made it back-to-back 16-win campaigns in his first two seasons as a Cardinal. Matt Morris went 8-0 in his first 12 starts and would finish with 14 victories, including the 100th of his career, August 20 against San Francisco. Jason Marquis won 13 games, worked a career-high 207 innings and the first three complete games of his career. Marquis the batter registered a .310 batting average and a career-high 27 base hits, three in nine at-bats as a pinch hitter and a league-leading 24 as a pitcher with 10 RBI, second among N.L. mound men, statistics adequate to earn Marquis the N.L. Silver Slugger Award. The rotation of Carpenter, Mulder, Morris, Suppan and Marquis made 160 of the 162 possible starts. The only other needed help resulted in Anthony Reyes winning his major-league debut in Milwaukee August 9 and Cal Eldred starting an all-bullpen four-hitter August 28 at Washington. That was one of many highlights for the Cardinal bullpen, which permitted the club to go 85-6 when leading after seven innings and 89-3 when leading after eight. Lefthander Ray King was again the workhorse of the bullpen, leading the staff and finishing eighth in the N.L. by appearing in 77 games. The second most-summoned Cardinal reliever was Julian Tavarez, whose 32 holds tied for the league lead. Veteran righty Al Reyes yielded a 2.15 ERA and a .177 batting average in 65 outings. In a 15-5 victory May 8 against San Diego, Brad Thompson worked the final three innings to become the first Cardinal in 28 years to earn a save in his major-league debut. He would stay with St. Louis the rest of the season, holding opponents to a .227 average in 40 appearances, and go undefeated with four second-half victories. Jason Isringhausen opened the season by allowing one run in 18.1 innings over his first 20 appearances and recorded 16 saves without failure through June 1. From that start, the righthander would place fifth in the N.L. with 39 saves, in 43 opportunities, and 10th with 52 games finished. The Cardinals secured their 100th win of the season October 2, 7-5 over Cincinnati, before 50,434 fans in the final regular-season game at Busch Stadium. The ballclub held a two-hour tribute to the stars of the Busch Stadium era following the game. The Cardinals took their Central Division title, and that best record in the majors, into a Division Series matchup with San Diego and produced an efficient three-game sweep. The starting pitching of Carpenter, Mulder and Morris held the Padres to a 1.45 ERA and a .242 batting average. Sanders, playing in his sixth career postseason and fifth in six seasons followed up a season-ending and team season-best six-game RBI streak, to become the offensive star of the series. He had four hits in the NLDS, each driving in at least two runs. Sanders set a club postseason record driving in six runs in Game One - four coming on one swing in the fifth inning as he became the third Cardinal to hit a grand slam in postseason competition - and would establish a Major League Division Series record with 10 RBI over the three games. The Cardinals advanced to the N.L. Championship series against Houston, where Sanders hit a two-run, first-inning homer off Andy Pettitte in the series opener en route to a 5-3 win. Trailing the series 3-1 and Game Five 4-2 with two out in the ninth inning, Pujols hit a dramatic three-run homer off Brad Lidge, sending the series back to St. Louis for the sixth game. But for the second time in the series, Roy Oswalt held the Cardinals to one run over seven innings, wrapping up the series MVP as the Astros won 5-1 to take the pennant. On that night of October 19, Molina flied out to right field to end the game, the last game at Busch Stadium.

2006 St. Louis played to sellout crowds each of 80 home dates and to a season's total of 3,407,114, second-most in club history. The first 41,936 paying customers witnessed a 6-4 win over Milwaukee April 10. The Cardinals won the first nine series, and 20 of the first 28 games, in the opening two months of their home park. The strong start to the season saw St. Louis go a season-high 16-games over .500, 42-26 with a June 18 win over Colorado. Eventually, the Cardinals would take the field September 20 with a seven-game lead over Houston and 12 games left on the schedule en route to capturing a third consecutive N.L. Central title. Albert Pujols finished in the top three in the National League in nine different offensive categories, five major ones, en route to finishing second in balloting for the Most Valuable Player award. In a season in which he became the first Cardinal to homer twice on Opening Day, April 3 in Philadelphia, then capped off the opening homestand in new Busch Stadium with three homers against Cincinnati April 16, he was the league runner-up, and established career highs, with 49 home runs, 137 RBI and a .431 on-base percentage. He finished third in the batting race with a .331 average and won his first slugging title with a .671 figure that represented another personal best. And the Cardinal first basemen won his first Gold Glove, committing just six errors in 143 games while finishing second in the league with 110 assists. After missing much of 2005 with a shoulder injury, Scott Rolen returned and posted the third-highest batting average of his carrer, hitting .296. He was fourth in the N.L. with 48 doubles and fifth with eight sacrifice flies. And he continued his renowned play at third base, finishing second in the league with 320 assists en route to winning his seventh Gold Glove. David Eckstein gave the Redbirds consistent offensive support atop the order hitting .292. Ronnie Belliard, obtained from Cleveland in a July 30 deal for Hector Luna, committed just three errors in 53 games at second. And when Eckstein missed much of the season's fourth quarter with a strained left oblique, Aaron Miles, St. Louis' fourth different Opening Day starter at second in as many years and, principally, the keystoner before Belliard's arrival, started 31 of the season's final 37 games at short with performances that provided the club a needed boost. Free-agent outfielder Juan Encarnacion, who started the season with a .203 average and one RBI in his first 19 games, drove in 35 runs in his next 50 contests, and would wake up July 29 with a .291 batting average. He would finish with 43 multi-hit games, tied with Eckstein for second on the club and trailing just Pujols' 48. Jim Edmonds missed 51 games, 34 after the All-Star Break with effects from post-concussion syndrome, yet still tallied 19 homers and 70 RBI in the 110 games he did play. So Taguchi hit .293 before the All-Star Break and went on to establish personal Major-League bests scoring 46 runs and stealing 11 bases. He and Preston Wilson, an August 18 free-agent signing who hit eight home runs in 32 games for St. Louis, were among the seven players to make 25 outfield starts for the Cardinals and four who had starts at all three positions. Yadier Molina continued to show defensive brilliance from behind the plate, leading N.L. catchers with 79 assists, including the retirement of 26-of-63 attempting basestealers and seven pickoffs. Veteran backup Gary Bennett, having spent a fourth consecutive winter changing teams, played in 60 games, starting 43. August 26-27 against Chicago, he became the first Cardinal in more than six years to record game-ending RBI in consecutive games, and in this case, the latter was a grand slam. Chris Duncan, who had appeared in nine 2005 contests, was recalled for his first big-league start May 21 at Kansas City and homered in that day's 10-3 win. After two trips back to Memphis, he was back for keeps July 3 and became one of baseball's top rookie stories of the year. He was the runner-up among N.L. rookies with a .589 slugging average, his .293 batting average and 22 home runs placed him fourth, he finished fifth with a .363 on-base percentage and was ninth with 60 runs. Duncan's 19 post-All-Star-Break homers broke Pujols' 2001 Cardinals rookie record of 16. John Rodriguez had a team high 11 pinch hits, including a club-best two homers, while Scott Spiezio led the squad with eight RBI off the bench. All in all, the bits and pieces of the Cardinal offense managed to post a .269 batting average, fourth-highest in the league. Before the All-Star Break, the Cardinals were hitting .279 and had committed just 46 errors through 86 games. Chris Carpenter maintained his reputation as one of the game's outstanding pitchers as he was one of two Senior Circuit hurlers to complete three shutouts en route to posting a 3.09 ERA, second in the loop. He was moreso effective in Busch Stadium, where he recorded all three blankings and became the first major-league pitcher in 15 years to do so in back-to-back seasons. This allowed Carpenter to lead the majors with a 1.81 home ERA. The righthander was top five in the N.L. in five different categories, as runner-up with five complete games, ranking fourth by holding opposing hitters to a .235 batting average and placing fifth by giving an average 1.75 walks per nine innings. And he was sixth with 221.2 innings and 184 strikeouts. Carpenter led a rotation that had three double-figure winners. Jeff Suppan, a winner of 12 games who was second on the staff with 18 quality starts, was third in the majors after the All-Star Break with a 2.39 ERA. In his last nine regular-season starts, he was 3-0 with 2.06 ERA and allowed only two homers over 56.2 innings. Jason Marquis posted a 6.02 ERA, third-highest ever for a 14-game winner. St. Louis got a surprising boost from Jeff Weaver, acquired from the Angels in a July 5 trade. Weaver, 3-10 in the A.L., went 5-4 for the Cardinals, 4-1 on the road. And rookie Anthony Reyes made 17 starts during four regular-season stints in the majors. Closer Jason Isringhausen finished fifth in the league with 33 saves before an arthritic hip ended his season September 6. His 21st save, June 13 at Pittsburgh, was his 161st as a Cardinal, a franchise record. Rookie Adam Wainwright, already on his way to leading the Cardinal bullpen with 23 holds and 72 strikeouts but had just a May 19 save to his credit before picking up for Isringhausen, earned two in the season's final week to help hold off the Astros. Wainwright earned the latter of his two wins as the third of five Cardinal relievers in a bullpen game - Brad Thompson making the lone start in his 43 appearances - May 24 at San Francisco, a game won by St. Louis. Josh Kinney helped fill the resultant middle relief void with a strong month of September in which he put together a 1.46 ERA in 11 games. Braden Looper led the staff with 69 appearances and nine wins, most by a Cardinal reliever since Mark Petkovsek's 11 victories in 1996. Randy Flores gave the staff one workhorse southpaw, as he appeared in 65 games, and rookie Tyler Johnson proved another, appearing in 56 of the 128 games he was on the big-league roster after his May 9 recall. Manager Tony La Russa pushed his third-highest win total in major-league history to 2,297 and his second-highest figure in Cardinal history to 977, as he reached the postseason for the 12th time overall and seventh with St. Louis. And in that postseason, the Cardinals became the first team in Major-League history to complete postseason competition with more wins above .500 than during the qualifying regular season. They followed their 83-78 mark with an 11-5 record in wins over San Diego in the Division Series, New York in the National League Championship Series, and Detroit in the World Series that resulted in the club's 10th World Championship. The Cardinals, having managed to win seven of their last 31 road games during the regular season, earned two solid victories in San Diego to open the Division Series. They returned home to complete a four-game series victory during which they allowed six runs. Ronnie Belliard hit .462 against the Padres and made a spectacular diving play of a ground ball to end the seventh inning of Game One and the West champs' best threat in the first 21 innings of the series. St. Louis faced the New York Mets in a memorable seven-game National League Championship Series. Scott Spiezio's two-run triple in the seventh to tie the game and So Taguchi's ninth-inning homer to put the Cards on top were the big blows in turning a 6-4 deficit into a 9-6 win in Game Two and even the series following the Mets 2-0 series-opening victory at Shea Stadium. Back at Busch Stadium, Jeff Suppan worked eight innings of three-hit ball in a 5-0 Game Three victory. The Mets dealt Cardinal pitching its one significant staff-wide blow in the postseason in a 12-5 win in Game Four before the Redbird hurlers went to work and held New York to seven runs over the final three games. Jeff Weaver avaenged his opening-game loss to Tom Glavine in Game Five. In Game Seven, Suppan allowed just a first-inning run in seven frames, while the Cardinals tied it in the second. The Mets' Endy Chavez lept high over the left-field wall to deny Scott Rolen a go-ahead homer in the seventh, but Yadier Molina made sure his ninth-inning drive to left had plenty on it to give the Cards a 3-1 lead. Randy Flores and Wainwright worked through a bases-loaded situation in the ninth to claim for the Redbirds their 17th National Legaue pennant and second league title in three seasons. Wainwright earned saves in Games Five and Seven and Suppan was named Most Valuable Player of the N.L.C.S. after holding the Mets to a run on five hits over 15 innings in two starts.

CARDINALS RETIRED NUMBERS

In the 115-year history of the St. Louis Cardinals, 12 individuals have enjoyed such distinguished careers on the field, in the dugout, or from the owners box or broadcast booth that their uniform numbers have been retired by the organization. Only the New York Yankees (14) have recognized more individuals with retired numbers. The honored Redbirds' jersey numbers appear in two areas; encircled in a series below the main scoreboard and above the Coca Cola Scoreboard Patio in right-center field and on the left-field wall at the new Busch Stadium.

Along with the 12 Cardinals retired numbers is that of Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson, whose uniform No. 42 was retired throughout Major League Baseball in 1997 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of his breaking the big-league color barrier. Robinson played for the Brooklyn Dodgers from 1947 to 1956. He was the National League Rookie of the Year in 1947, the Most Valuable Player in 1949 and a five-time All-Star. Robinson was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1962.

The most recent honory is Hall of Fame closer Bruce Sutter, who returned to Busch Stadium for the ceremony on a soggy day prior to a rainout versus the San Francisco Giants on September 17, 2006.

OZZIE SMITH
SHORTSTOP

FULL NAME: Osborne Earl Smith
HEIGHT: 5-10 WEIGHT: 180 BATS: Both THROWS: Right
BORN: 12/26/54 at Mobile, Alabama.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1982-96.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1996.

Ozzie Smith is widely regarded as the finest fielding shortstop of all time. But after being labeled as a good-field, no-hit performer early in his career, he developed into a bona fide offensive threat, as well.

The Cardinals acquired Smith from the San Diego Padres in exchange for shortstop Garry Templeton on Feb. 11, 1982. It proved to be one of the greatest trades in franchise history. Smith was a key element in St. Louis' success of the 1980s, and became one of the city's most popular citizens.

A lifetime .231 batter when he arrived in St. Louis, Smith promptly hit .248 for the 1982 season as the Cardinals won the World Series over the Milwaukee Brewers. In 1985, Smith batted at a .276 clip with a career high of six home runs and 54 RBI. He subsequently stunned the baseball world with a game-winning homer in the bottom of the ninth inning of Game 5 of the National League Championship Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers. The blast - on a 1-2 pitch from reliever Tom Niedenfuer - was Smith's first as a left-handed batter in 3,009 at-bats and prompted Cardinals' broadcaster Jack Buck to exclaim, "Go crazy, folks! Go crazy!" Smith put together his finest season at the plate in 1987, with career highs of a .303 average and 75 RBI, as the Cardinals captured their third N.L. pennant in six seasons. He finished as runner-up for the Most Valuable Player Award to Andre Dawson of the Chicago Cubs.

Throughout his offensive progression, Smith seemingly made every play defensively, both the routine and the spectacular. "The Wizard" won 13 consecutive Gold Gloves between 1980 and 1992, setting a major league record with an all-time low of eight errors in 1991. Smith's most eye-popping play came Aug. 5, 1986, against the Philadelphia Phillies at Busch Stadium. He took off on a short fly ball to left field hit by Von Hayes and, with his back to the plate, flew parallel to the ground and completely stretched out to make the catch. Smith is baseball's career leader in assists (8,375), chances accepted (12,624) and double plays (1,590) by a shortstop. He led the N.L. in fielding percentage eight times and had a career .978 mark, fifth in baseball annals.

Smith was selected to 15 All-Star Games, and when he retired following the 1996 season, he had received more votes in fan balloting for the Mid-Summer Classic than any other player in N.L. history (27,597,904). On St. Louis' career lists, Smith ranks second in walks (876); third in games (1,990), at-bats (7,160) and stolen bases (433); sixth in runs (991) and hits (1,944); and ninth in doubles (338).

Smith was elected to the Hall of Fame in 2002, his first year on the ballot, receiving nearly 92 percent of the votes from the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Fans voted Smith shortstop on the All-Busch Stadium team, which was announced on October 1, 2005 as part of final weekend festivities at the stadium.

RED SCHOENDIENST

SECOND BASEMAN/MANAGER

FULL NAME: Albert Fred (Red) Schoendienst
HEIGHT: 6-0 WEIGHT: 170 BATS: Both THROWS: Right
BORN: 2/2/23 at Germantown, Illinois.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1945-56, 1961-76, 1979-95.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1996.

The name Albert "Red" Schoendienst is synonymous with Cardinals' baseball. After all, he wore the uniform for some 45 seasons as a player, coach and manager and still is involved with the organization as special assistant to the general manager.

It all started in 1945, when Schoendienst joined the club to fill in for left fielder Stan Musial, who was serving in the U.S. Army. Schoendienst batted .278 with 47 RBI and a National League-leading 26 stolen bases. The following year, Musial returned to the Cardinals, and Schoendienst moved to third base and then shortstop before settling in at second base. St. Louis won the World Series over the Boston Red Sox as Schoendienst began to develop into one of the best hitting and fielding second basemen of all time.

In 1953, Schoendienst put together his finest season. He established career highs of a .342 batting average - second in the league to Carl Furrillo of the Brooklyn Dodgers at .344 - with 15 home runs and 79 RBI. On June 14, 1956, Schoendienst was involved in a surprising trade when he was sent to the New York Giants along with outfielder Jackie Brandt, pitcher Dick Littlefield, catcher Bill Sarni and shortstop Bobby Stephenson in exchange for shortstop Alvin Dark, catcher Ray Katt, pitcher Don Liddle and outfielder Whitey Lockman.

The following year, Schoendienst was traded to the Milwaukee Braves, who won the 1957 World Series and the 1958 N.L. pennant. He subsequently returned to St. Louis in 1961. On the Cardinals' career lists, Schoendienst ranks fourth in at-bats (6,841) and pinch hits (53); fifth in games (1,795), runs (1,025) and hits (1,980); sixth in doubles (352); and seventh in total bases (2,657). He led the N.L. with 200 hits in 1957, and seven times either led or tied for the N.L. lead in fielding percentage.

Schoendienst served as a coach on the 1964 World Championship team and was named manager when Johnny Keane resigned at the conclusion of the season. Schoendienst piloted St. Louis to a World Series victory in 1967 over the Red Sox and another N.L. pennant in 1968 en route to a 12-year tenure as skipper, the longest in franchise history.

A 10-time N.L. All-Star, Schoendienst socked a game-winning home run in the 14th inning of the 1950 Mid-Summer Classic off Ted Gray of the Detroit Tigers. It marked the switch-hitter's first career homer batting right-handed. Schoendienst later managed the Senior Circuit to victories in 1968 and 1969. After a stint as coach with the Oakland Athletics in 1977 and 1978, Schoendienst came back to St. Louis as a coach from 1979 to 1995. He filled in as interim manager in 1980 and 1990. Schoendienst was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1989 by the Veterans Committee.

STAN MUSIAL

OUTFIELDER/FIRST BASEMAN

FULL NAME: Stanley Frank Musial

BORN: 11/21/20 at Donora, Pennsylvania.

YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1941-44, 1946-63.

NUMBER RETIRED: 1963.

Simply stated, Stan Musial is "The Man." Not only is he the greatest player in Cardinals' history, he also is the most popular.

Musial played his entire 22-year career as an outfielder and first baseman in St. Louis. He is the franchise's career leader in virtually every batting category: games (3,026), at-bats (10,972), runs (1,949), hits (3,630), doubles (725), triples (177), home runs (475), RBI (1,951), walks (1,599) and total bases (6,134). His .331 average is fifth behind Rogers Hornsby (.359), Johnny Mize (.336) Joe Medwick (.335) and Albert Pujols (.332). And, despite being an everyday player most of his career, Musial ranks seventh with 35 pinch-hits.

After initially joining the Cardinals late in 1941, Musial arrived for good the following season. He immediately began a stretch of 16 straight years in which he batted .300 or better. In 1943, Musial led the National League with a .357 average, 220 hits, 48 doubles and 20 triples and earned the first of his three Most Valuable Player awards. Musial also was named MVP in 1946 (led league with .365 average, 124 runs, 228 hits, 50 doubles and 20 triples) and 1948 (topped N.L. with .376 average, 135 runs, 230 hits, 46 doubles, 18 triples and 131 RBI). All told, the sweet-swinging left-handed batter paced the Senior Circuit in batting seven times.

A member of three World Championship teams (1942, 1944 and 1946), Musial was chosen to play in 24 All-Star Games (tied for the most in major league history with Hank Aaron and Willie Mays). His six home runs are the most in Mid-Summer Classic annals. He won the 1955 game with a 12th-inning homer off Frank Sullivan of the Boston Red Sox at County Stadium in Milwaukee.

On May 13, 1958, Musial collected the 3,000th hit of his career with a pinch double off Moe Drabowsky of the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field. Musial finished his career with 3,630 hits. At the time of his retirement, he held major league records for extra-base hits and total bases and N.L. marks for runs, hits, doubles and RBI. He has the fourth-most hits in baseball history - behind Pete Rose (4,256), Ty Cobb (4,190) and Hank Aaron (3,771).

Musial was the first player in Cardinals' history to have his uniform number retired, and he was a first-ballot Hall of Fame selection in 1969, being named on 93 percent of the ballots. Musial was a long-time senior vice-president with the organization and served as general manager in 1967, when the Cardinals won the World Series over the Boston Red Sox. More than anything else, the personable Musial has been a great emissary for all that is good about the game of baseball. A bronze statue of Musial stands outside Busch Stadium with the following words: "Here stands baseball's perfect warrior. Here stands baseball's perfect knight."

ENOS SLAUGHTER

OUTFIELDER

FULL NAME: Enos Bradsher Slaughter
HEIGHT: 5-9 WEIGHT: 190 BATTED: Left THREW: Right
BORN: 4/27/16 at Roxboro, North Carolina.
DIED: 8/12/02 at Durham, North Carolina.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1938-42, 1946-53.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1996.

He didn't have the nickname, but Enos Slaughter was a genuine "Charlie Hustle." Throughout his career, he was known for his all-out style of play.

Slaughter dashed into baseball immortality in Game 7 of the 1946 World Series against the Boston Red Sox. With the scored tied 3-3 in the bottom of the eighth inning, Slaughter led off with a single. He remained there as the next two batters were retired and then took off to steal second base with left fielder Harry Walker at the plate. Walker stroked a double into center field, and Boston's Leon Culbersor threw the ball to shortstop Johnny Pesky. While Pesky hesitated on the relay, Slaughter kept on running, ignoring third base coach Mike Gonzalez's stop sign and scoring what proved to be the series-deciding run.

Long before his "Mad Dash," Slaughter was a bona fide all-star. He broke into the major leagues with the Cardinals in 1938 and the next year led the National League with 52 doubles while batting .320. It was the first of five straight seasons in which Slaughter batted at a .300 clip. In 1942, he had a .318 average - second in the N.L. to Ernie Lombardi of the Boston Braves at .330 - and league-leading totals of 188 hits and 17 triples. St. Louis' outfield cast of Slaughter in right, Terry Moore in center and Stan Musial in left is regarded as the best in franchise history, and helped lead the Redbirds to the 1942 World Championship over the New York Yankees.

After a three-year stint in the service, Slaughter returned to the Cardinals in 1946. All he did is top the league with 130 RBI to go with a .300 average and 18 home runs. In 1950 and 1952, Slaughter drove in 101 runs while hitting fewer than 15 home runs. No other player in major league history has accomplished that feat twice.

On April 11, 1954, Slaughter was traded to the Yankees for outfielder Bill Virdon, pitcher Mel Wright and minor league outfielder Emil Tellinger. Upon being told of the deal, Slaughter sat in front of his locker and cried. On St. Louis' career lists, he ranks second in RBI (1,148); third in triples (135) and walks (839); fourth in games (1,820), runs (1,071), hits (2,064) and total bases (3,138); fifth in at-bats (6,775) and doubles (366); and 11th in home runs (146). He batted .300 in eight of his 13 seasons with the Cardinals.

Slaughter subsequently played for the Kansas City Athletics (1955-56) before returning to the Yankees (1956-59) and finishing his career with the Milwaukee Braves (1959). The Veterans Committee elected the 10-time All-Star, who was nicknamed "Country," into the Hall of Fame in 1985.

KEN BOYER
THIRD BASEMAN/MANAGER

14

FULL NAME: Kenton Lloyd Boyer
HEIGHT: 6-2 WEIGHT: 200 BATTED: Right THREW: Right
BORN: 5/20/31 at Liberty, Missouri. DIED: 9/7/82 at St. Louis, Missouri.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1955-65, 1971-72, 1978-80.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1984.

Only one player in Cardinals' history has hit for the cycle on two occasions. It's Ken Boyer, who accomplished the feat Sept. 14, 1961, against the Chicago Cubs and June 16, 1964, against the Houston Colt .45s.

Boyer was a solid all-around third baseman. He hit for average and power and earned five Gold Glove awards for his fielding prowess. From 1958 to 1963, he averaged 26 home runs and 98 RBI to go with a .304 batting average. Then in 1964, Boyer was named the National League Most Valuable Player after batting .295 with 24 homers and a league-leading 119 RBI. In the World Series against the New York Yankees, Boyer clubbed a grand slam in Game 4 to give the Cardinals a 4-3 victory, and he contributed three hits and three runs to help St. Louis win the seventh and deciding game by the score of 7-5.

An N.L. All-Star in 1956 and from 1959 to 1964, Boyer hit a two-run homer in the second 1960 game at Yankee Stadium and a solo blast in the 1964 contest at Shea Stadium. He was a .348 batter (8-for-23) in the Mid-Summer Classic.

"The Captain" was traded to the New York Mets on Oct. 20, 1965, in exchange for pitcher Al Jackson and third baseman Charley Smith. On the Cardinals' career lists, Boyer ranks second in home runs (255); fifth in RBI (1,001) and total bases (3,011); sixth in at-bats (6,334); and seventh in games (1,667), runs (988), hits (1,855) and walks (631). His seven grand slams are tied for the second most in club history behind Stan Musial's nine.

Being a native Missourian, Boyer was always a Cardinal at heart. He returned to the organization as a minor league manager in 1970 and again from 1973 to 1976 and served as a major league coach in 1971 and 1972. He replaced Vern Rapp as manager of the big league club April 29, 1978, and piloted the Cardinals to an 86-76 record and third-place finish in the N.L. East Division the following year. But in 1980, with expectations high, the Cardinals never got untracked, and Boyer was dismissed June 8 after a 6-4 loss in the first game of a double-header against the Montreal Expos dropped their record to 18-33.

Boyer was diagnosed with lung cancer in the early 1980s, and the disease ultimately took his life in 1982 at just 51 years of age.

DIZZY DEAN
PITCHER

17

FULL NAME: Jay Hanna (Dizzy) Dean
HEIGHT: 6-2 WEIGHT: 182 BATTED: Right THREW: Right
BORN: 1/16/10 at Lucas, Arkansas. DIED: 7/17/74 at Reno, Nevada.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1930, 1932-37.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1974.

Dizzy Dean was the prototypical member of the "Gas House Gang." The right-handed pitcher was one of baseball's zaniest characters. He also was a warrior and a winner.

After a cup of coffee with the Cardinals in 1930, Dean became a mainstay two years later. He put together his best season in 1934, going 30-7 with a 2.66 ERA and 195 strikeouts. Dean led the National League in wins and strikeouts and ranked second in ERA en route to being named the Most Valuable Player. He is the only pitcher in Cardinals' history to win 30 games and the last N.L. hurler to accomplish the feat. St. Louis won the World Series that year over the Detroit Tigers four games to three, with Dean and his brother, Paul, accounting for all four victories. Dizzy fired a six-hit shutout to win Game 7 by the score of 11-0.

Dean, who led the league with 28 wins in 1935, was selected to four consecutive All-Star Games from 1934 to 1937. He was the winning pitcher in 1936 and the loser in 1937. But Dean lost more than the game in 1937. A line drive off the bat of Cleveland Indians' outfielder Earl Averill in the third inning broke one of Dean's toes. Dean refused to take time off to let the injury heal, and he began utilizing an unnatural pitching delivery that led to an arm injury from which he never fully recovered.

On April 16, 1938, the Cardinals traded Dean to the Chicago Cubs in exchange for pitchers Clyde Shoun and Curt Davis, outfielder Tuck Stainback and $185,000. On St. Louis' career lists, Dean ranks second in strikeouts (1,087); third in winning percentage (.641); sixth in wins (134), complete games (141) and shutouts (23); and ninth in innings pitched (1,736).

Dean was known for his fun-loving lifestyle and story telling as much as his success. In a double-header against the Brooklyn Dodgers at Sportsman's Park on Sept. 21, 1934, Dizzy authored a three-hit shutout in the opener and Paul followed with a no-hitter. "Gee whiz," Dizzy said afterwards. "If I'd a known Paul was gonna do it, I'd a thrown one, too."

Following his playing days, Dean was a colorful broadcaster who became an ambassador for baseball. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1953.

LOU BROCK

20

FULL NAME: Louis Clark Brock
HEIGHT: 5-11 WEIGHT: 170 BATS: Left THROWS: Left
BORN: 6/18/39 at El Dorado, Arkansas.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1964-79.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1979.

If it's been said once, it's been said a million times. The Cardinals' acquisition of outfielder Lou Brock from the Chicago Cubs on June 15, 1964, ranks as perhaps the greatest steal in baseball history. St. Louis traded pitchers Ernie Broglio and Bobby Shantz and outfielder Doug Clemens in exchange for Brock and pitchers Jack Spring and Paul Toth.

Over the course of his career with the Cardinals, Brock established himself as the most prolific base stealer in baseball history to that time. His 938 stolen bases stood as the major league record until Rickey Henderson bettered the mark in 1991. Brock's total remains the National League standard, and he holds the major league record with 12 seasons of 50 or more steals. Brock led the N.L. in thefts on eight occasions (1966 to 1969 and 1971 to 1974). He set the season record with 118 in 1974, bettering the mark of 104 by Maury Wills during the 1962 campaign. In 1978, the N.L. announced that its annual stolen base leader would receive the Lou Brock Award, making Brock the first active player to have an award named after him.

But Brock was more than a base burglar. He was a career .293 batter with 3,023 hits. Seven times he batted at a .300 or better clip. In 1967, Brock slugged 21 home runs and had 76 RBI from the leadoff spot. He also had 52 stolen bases to become the first player in baseball history with 20 homers and 50 steals. The following year, Brock topped the N.L. in doubles (46), triples (14) and stolen bases (62), the first player in the Senior Circuit to do so since Honus Wagner of the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1908. Brock joined the 3,000-hit club Aug. 13, 1979, with a fourth-inning single off Dennis Lamp of the Chicago Cubs at Busch Stadium.

Brock paid immediate dividends in St. Louis, batting .348 for the balance of the 1964 season and propelling the Cardinals from eighth place in the N.L. to a World Championship over the New York Yankees. The Cardinals won the World Series again in 1967 over the Boston Red Sox and were N.L. champions in 1968. Brock was at his best in postseason play. His .391 career batting average (34-for-87) is a World Series record, while his 14 stolen bases are tied for the most all time with Eddie Collins of the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

On the Cardinals' career lists, Brock ranks first in stolen bases (888 - Vince Coleman is second with 549); second in games (2,289), at-bats (9,125), runs (1,427), hits (2,713), doubles (434) and total bases (3,776); fourth in triples (121); fifth in walks (681); and ninth in RBI (814). He was a six-time N.L. All-Star.

Brock has remained active in baseball since retiring as a player following the 1979 season. He worked in the Cardinals' broadcast booth from 1981 to 1984; was a baserunning consultant for the Minnesota Twins in 1987, Los Angeles Dodgers in 1988 and Montreal Expos in 1993; and has served as a special instructor for the Cardinals (baserunning and outfield play) since 1995. He was a first-ballot Hall of Fame inductee in 1985.

Fans voted Brock the left fielder on the All-Busch Stadium team, which was announced on October 1, 2005 as part of final weekend festivities at the stadium.

BRUCE SUTTER
PITCHER

42

FULL NAME: Howard Bruce Sutter
HEIGHT: 6-2 WEIGHT: 190 BATS: Right THROWS: Right
BORN: 1/8/53 at Lancaster, Pennsylvania.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1981-84
NUMBER RETIRED: 2006.

Bruce Sutter was a pioneer whose journey landed him in Cooperstown.

The right-handed lights-out closer, who made famous the split-fingered fastball, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 2006. He became the fourth reliever enshrined into baseball's hallowed ground, following Hoyt Wilhelm (1985), Rollie Fingers (1992) and Dennis Eckersley (2004). Sutter was the first player never to start to a game to be selected.

Sutter pitched for the Cardinals from 1981 to 1984. Acquired from the Chicago Cubs on Dec. 9, 1980, in exchange for first baseman Leon Durham, third baseman Ken Reitz and minor-league third baseman Ty Waller, Sutter proved to be a key acquisition for general manager and manager Whitey Herzog in his transformation of the Cardinals from underachievers to World Champions.

During the strike-shortened 1981 season, Sutter saved 25 games – the most by a St. Louis pitcher since the save became an officially recognized statistic in 1969 – with chants of "Bruuuuuce!" bellowing throughout Busch Stadium every time he ran in from the bullpen. Sutter recorded 36 saves in 1982 and struck of Gorman Thomas of the Milwaukee Brewers to wrap up Game 7 of the World Series.

Sutter had 45 saves in 1985 to tie the Major League record – set by Dan Quisenberry of the Kansas City Royals two years earlier – that since has been eclipsed. The Cardinals elected not to re-sign Sutter after that season, and he moved on to the Atlanta Braves. He subsequently was hampered by shoulder problems that led to his retirement following the 1988 campaign at the age of 35.

Struggling in the minor leagues with Class-A Quincy (Ill.) in 1973, Sutter learned the revolutionary split-fingered pitch from former Cardinals' right-hander Fred Martin, then a Chicago minor-league pitching coach. The pitch, an offshoot of the forkball that Sutter was suited to throw because of his long fingers, aptly was described as "a fastball that winds up like a dead fish" because of its wicked forward spin.

By 1976, Sutter was in the big leagues with the Cubs. He won the 1979 N.L. Cy Young Award after amassing 37 saves and a 2.22 ERA with 110 strikeouts in 101.3 innings pitched. He was only the third reliever to be so honored, following Mark Marshall of the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1974 and Sparky Lyle of the New York Yankees in 1977.

In 12 major-league seasons, Sutter totaled 300 saves to rank third on baseball's all-time list at the time of his retirement and 20th through 2006. He worked more than one inning for 188 of his rescues and surpassed 100 innings pitched in a season on five occasions, with one more year at 99. Sutter led the Senior Circuit in saves in 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982 and 1984. He was a six-time All-Star – appearing in four games and earning two wins (1978 and 1979) and two saves (1980 and 1981) while not allowing a run – and received the Rolaids Relief Man Award four times.

Sutter's four-year St. Louis save total of 127 established a franchise record and now ranks fourth behind Jason Isringhausen (173 through 2006), Lee Smith (160) and Todd Worrell (129).

BOB GIBSON
PITCHER

45

FULL NAME: Robert Gibson
HEIGHT: 6-1 WEIGHT: 195 BATS: Right THROWS: Right
BORN: 11/9/35 at Omaha, Nebraska.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1959-75.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1975.

Bob Gibson ranks as the greatest pitcher in Cardinals' history. A glance at the record book supports the claim. On the franchise's career lists, the right-hander is first in wins (251), complete games (255), shutouts (56), innings pitched (3,884.1) and strikeouts (3,117). He is second in games pitched (528) and tied for ninth in ERA (2.91).

An outstanding athlete, Gibson played with the Harlem Globetrotters before arriving in St. Louis to stay in 1961. Three years later, he posted a 19-12 record with a 3.01 ERA in helping the Cardinals win the National League pennant. After losing Game 2 of the World Series to the New York Yankees, Gibson posted complete-game victories in Game 5 (5-2 in 10 innings) and Game 7 (7-5) and earned Series Most Valuable Player honors.

Gibson was on his way to another banner season in 1967 when a line drive off the bat of Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder Roberto Clemente broke Gibson's right leg July 15. He was sidelined 52 days but returned to pitch the N.L. pennant clincher against the Philadelphia Phillies on Sept. 18 and then go 3-0 with a 1.00 ERA, three complete games and 26 strikeouts in the Cardinals' World Series victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The postseason dominance was an indicator of things to come. In 1968, Gibson authored the greatest season by a pitcher in modern history. His 1.12 ERA established an all-time record for 300 or more innings. Gibson posted a 22-9 record with league-leading totals of 13 shutouts and 268 strikeouts. During one stretch, he surrendered two earned runs over 95 innings. Gibson was named the N.L. Cy Young Award winner and MVP. For an encore, Gibson set a record with 17 strikeouts in Game 1 of the World Series against the Detroit Tigers (a 4-0 victory). He pitched two more complete games (winning Game 4 by the score of 10-1 before losing Game 7 by a 4-1 margin) to run his streak to a record eight straight complete-game starts in Series play. Gibson, the series MVP, totaled 35 strikeouts in the three games to establish a Fall Classic standard.

Gibson won his second Cy Young Award in 1970 on the strength of a 23-7 record and 3.12 ERA. He fired a no-hitter against Pittsburgh on Aug. 14, 1971, winning 11-0 at Three Rivers Stadium, and became the second pitcher in baseball history to record 3,000 career strikeouts July 17, 1974 (following Walter Johnson of the Washington Senators).

Accompanying his blazing fastball and pinpoint control was an intense demeanor. Gibson was a complete pitcher, clouting 24 home runs and winning nine Gold Gloves. The nine-time N.L. All-Star was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1981, his first year of eligibility. "Gibby" served as pitching coach for the New York Mets (1981) and Atlanta Braves (1982-84) and bullpen coach for St. Louis (1995). He also has done some broadcasting and has been a special instructor for the Cardinals since 1996.

Fans voted Gibson the starting pitcher on the All-Busch Stadium team, which was announced on October 1, 2005 as part of final weekend festivities at the stadium.

PROMINENT CARDINALS WHO WORE NO. 45

- Von McDaniel, 1957-58

Retired Numbers

AUGUST A. BUSCH JR.
PRESIDENT

85

FULL NAME: August Anheuser Busch, Jr.
BORN: 3/28/1899 at St. Louis, Missouri. DIED: 9/29/89 at St. Louis, Missouri.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1953-89.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1984.

August A. Busch Jr.'s reign as president of the Cardinals was marked by success on and off the field. Between 1953 and 1989, the Cardinals won three World Championships (1964, 1967 and 1982) and three additional National League pennants (1968, 1985 and 1987). They also forged the reputation of having the classiest organization in Major League Baseball.

Busch purchased the franchise from Fred Saigh on Feb. 20, 1953. Busch was president of Anheuser-Busch brewery, which benefited from the acquisition of the ball club. Although he didn't devote a tremendous amount of time to baseball-related matters early on, by the 1960s, Busch had grown tired of the Cardinals routinely finishing no higher than the middle of the pack in the N.L.

After winning the 1964 World Series over the New York Yankees, Busch was instrumental in the building of "new" Busch Stadium. The $26 million ballpark opened May 12, 1966, with a 4-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves in 12 innings and became the foundation of a rejuvenated downtown. In 1967, the Cardinals surpassed 2,000,000 in home attendance for the first time in franchise history.

Busch retired as leader of the brewery in 1975, handing over control to his son, August III. The Cardinals failed to win during the decade of the 1970s, leaving Busch anxious to return to prominence. He made arguably his best baseball decision June 9, 1980, when he hired Whitey Herzog as manager. Busch and Herzog enjoyed a sterling relationship that played a major role in the Cardinals' renewed success. Home attendance soared, with the club drawing 3,000,000-plus fans in both 1987 and 1989.

Throughout his ownership of the Cardinals, "Gussie" was one of the City of St. Louis' most popular citizens. He was a regular at home games, and on special occasions would ride around the stadium atop a Budweiser wagon pulled by a team of signature Anheuser-Busch Clydesdales.

The Cardinals retired the number 85 in Busch's honor in conjunction with his 85th birthday in 1984. He died Sept. 29, 1989, at the age of 90. August III subsequently served as chief executive until Anheuser-Busch sold the club to the current ownership group March 21, 1996.

ROGERS HORNSBY
SECOND BASEMAN/MANAGER

FULL NAME: Rogers Hornsby
HEIGHT: 5-11 WEIGHT: 175 BATTED: Right THREW: Right
BORN: 4/27/1896 at Winters, Texas. DIED: 1/5/1963 at Chicago, Illinois.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1915-26, 1933.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1997 (The Cardinals did not have numbers on their uniforms during Hornsby's tenure).

Since 1900, only two players have batted .400 on three occasions – Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby.

Only two playes have won multiple Triple Crowns – Ted Williams and Hornsby.

Hornsby, primarily a second baseman during his 23-year career, batted .401 in 1922, .403 in 1925 and .424 (a modern-day record) in 1924. He is the lone player in Cardinals' history to reach the coveted plateau. Hornsby led the National League in batting six consecutive seasons from 1920 to 1925, compiling a .397 average during that span. From 1921 to 1925, his average was .402, making him the only player ever to bat .400 over a five-year period.

Arguably the greatest right-handed batter of all time, Hornsby won the Triple Crown in 1922 and 1925. The first time, he batted .401 with 42 home runs (then an N.L. record) and 152 RBI while setting club records that still stand of 141 runs, 250 hits, 450 total bases, a .756 slugging percentage and a 33-game hitting streak. The second time, Hornsby had a .403 average with 39 homers and 139 RBI en route to being named the N.L. Most Valuable Player.

"The Rajah" spent the first 12 years of his career in St. Louis, leading the league in slugging percentage seven times; total bases six times; hits, doubles and RBI four times; runs three times; triples and home runs twice; and walks once. He was well known for refusing to go to movies because he thought the "strain" of watching the screen in darkness would hinder his eyesight.

On June 1, 1925, Hornsby took over as manager of the Cardinals, as well, replacing Branch Rickey. Hornsby continued in the dual role in 1926 and piloted the club to an 89-65 record and its first-ever World Championship, a seven-game victory over the New York Yankees. He tagged out Babe Ruth attempting to steal second base for the final out of Game 7, calling the play that clinched the 3-2 victory "the biggest thrill of my baseball career."

An outspoken individual, Hornsby at times was critical of owner Sam Breadon. Eventually, Breadon had enough, and on Dec. 26, 1926, Hornsby was traded to the New York Giants for infielder Frankie Frisch (who had had a falling out with his manager, John McGraw) and pitcher Jimmy Ring.

Hornsby subsequently played for and managed the Boston Braves (1928) and Chicago Cubs (1929-32), winning a second MVP Award in 1929, before returning to the Cardinals in 1933. His second stint, however, lasted just three months before Hornsby was released to become manager of the cross-town Browns. He remained in the Browns' dugout until midway through the 1937 season. Hornsby returned to manage the Browns for the first two months of the 1952 campaign before moving on to the Cincinnati Reds for roughly a season and a half.

On the Cardinals' career lists, Hornsby ranks first in batting average (.359); second in triples (143); third in runs (1,089), hits (2,110) and total bases (3,342); fourth in doubles (367) and RBI (1,072); seventh in home runs (193); sixth in walks (660); eighth in at-bats (5,881); and ninth in games (1,580). He played 997 games at second base, the fourth-most in franchise history.

Hornsby, whose lifetime batting average of .358 is the highest of any right-handed batter and second only to Cobb's .366 among all players, was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1942.

"That's a winner!"

JACK BUCK
BROADCASTER

FULL NAME: John Francis Buck
BORN: 8/21/1924 at Holyoke, Massachusetts.
DIED: 6/18/2002 at St. Louis, Missouri.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1954-2001.
NUMBER RETIRED: 2002.

He never swung a bat or thew a pitch. Yet, Jack Buck ranks as one of the most popular individuals ever associated with the Cardinals - perhaps the most popular.

Buck served as the "Voice of the Cardinals" on KMOX radio from 1954 to 2001. He was behind the microphone for some of the franchise's most-memorable moments: Bob Gibson's no-hitter in 1971, Lou Brock's 105th stolen base in 1974 and Mark McGwire's 61st home run in 1998. And his legendary call of Ozzie Smith's game-winning home run in Game 5 of the 1985 National League Championship Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers, when Buck told St. Louis fans to "Go crazy, folks! Go crazy," still sends chills up Cardinals' fans spines every time it is replayed.

Through it all, Buck's signature phrase after every Cardinals' victory was "That's a winner," and those words are printed on Buck's retired number pennant.

From 1954 to 1969, Buck worked along side another legend, Harry Caray, to form what is widely regarded as the best baseball broadcast duo ever assembled. From 1972 to 2001, Buck teamed with former Cards' third baseman Mike Shannon, and the pair became as synonymous with St. Louis baseball as Stan Musial and Bob Gibson. Beginning in 1991, Buck had the privilege of calling games with his son Joe, who now is the lead baseball and football announcer for FOX Sports television.

Buck was inducted into the broadcaster's wing of the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1987. He was honored with a statue outside the Cardinals' executive offices at Busch Stadium in 1998.

There was more to Buck than Cardinals' baseball. He broadcast several World Series for CBS Radio. His most-famous non-St. Louis call came in Game 1 of the 1988 Fall Classic when an injured Kirk Gibson hit a game-winning pinch-hit homer for the Dodgers against the Oakland Athletics. "Unbelievable!" Buck exclaimed. "I don't believe what I just saw." Buck was CBS-TV's lead play-by-play announcer in 1990 and 1991, and he also worked for ABC and NBC.

Buck enjoyed a distinguished football broadcasting career, as well. He called one of the most famous games ever, the 1967 Ice Bowl between the Dallas Cowboys and Green Bay Packers, for CBS, and he was the radio voice of Monday Night Football for CBS from 1978 to 1996, working with former NFL head coach Hank Stram. Buck, whose total of 17 Super Bowl broadcasts is the most of any announcer, received the Pete Rozelle Award from the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1996.

In addition, Buck announced basketball and hockey over the course of his career and also worked with Chris Schenkel on the Pro Bowler's Tour. Outside of sports, he served as the original host of "At Your Service" on KMOX, a program that essentially started the phenomenon of talk radio.

Buck's popularity extends well beyond his trademark gravely voice. Fans from coast to coast, but particularly those in St. Louis, knew him as a tremendously generous man who made time for everyone. He was named St. Louis' Citizen of the Year in 2000 for his contributions to the community.

When Buck passed away in June 2002, some 10,000 fans attended his public memorial service at Busch Stadium.

THE DARRYL KILE AWARD

At its annual dinner in January of 2003, the St. Louis Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America announced the creation of the Darryl Kile Award. It will be given annually to the Cardinal player, by vote of his teammates, who demonstrates the qualities that Darryl brought to the clubhouse every day: those of a good teammate, a great friend, a fine father, and a humble man. A veteran of 331 big league starts, Darryl was never on the disabled list at the Major League level and prided himself on never missing a start. The award was not given in 2002 in honor of Darryl.

A relief pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

1. He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
2. He is not the winning pitcher, and
3. He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
   a. He enters the game with lead of no more than three runs, and pitches for at least one inning, or
   b. He enters the game with potential tying run either on base, at-bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
   c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

DETERMINING BATTING AVERAGE:

Divide the number of at-bats into the number of hits.

DETERMINING AN EARNED-RUN-AVERAGE:

DETERMINING FIELDING AVERAGE:

TRADING REGULATIONS:

Trades may be made with any other major league club in the period from the end of the championship season through July 31 without waivers. Waivers are required, however:

1. If the assignment is to another major league club: From August 1 to the end of the season.
2. If assignment is to a minor league club, with right of recall, at any time after three years from the date the player first reported to a major league club during a championship season.
3. If assigned to a minor league club without right of recall, after acquiring three years service: At any time during the year.
4. If assigned to a minor league club, without right of recall, at any time prior to acquiring three years of service, special waivers are required between September 1 and the opening of the following season. If player is claimed, request may be withdrawn. If no claims are made, club has 7-day period in which to make assignment to minor leagues.

CHRIS MALONEY — MANAGER

Maloney returns to the Pacific Coast League after two seasons as Springfield manager. He returned to the Cardinals organization in 2005 after having spent 13 years as a St. Louis minor league manager and coach from 1988-2001.

Prior to his Cardinals return, he spent three seasons as manager of the Triple-A New Orleans Zephyrs in the Houston Astros system. He posted a 212-220 record with the Zephyrs, including a first place finish in 2002.

Maloney's previous tenure with the Cardinals included Manager of the Year honors in three different leagues: the New York-Penn League while leading Hamilton to a 56-20 record in 1992, the South Atlantic League with Savannah in 1993, and the Texas League with Arkansas in 1998. His 1993 Savannah squad posted a 94-48 record and captured the league title as Maloney was named Baseball Weekly's Minor League Manager of the Year. In his 11 seasons as a manager in the Cardinals system, Maloney has compiled a 705-608 (.541) record.

His work with young Cardinals players was formally recognized when he was presented with the 2006 George Kissell Award, presented annually by the Cardinals for excellence in player development.

Maloney, 45, is a native of Jackson, MS. He graduated from Mississippi State University in 1983 and was later signed as a nondrafted free agent by the New York Mets. The former outfielder-first baseman was purchased by the Cardinals in 1986 and played one minor league season at Springfield, Ill. He and wife Laurie have a daughter, Ann Bradley, and son, Jake.

RICK ECKSTEIN — HITTING COACH

Eckstein begins his first season with the Cardinals, though he is no stranger to the organization. His brother, David, is the Cardinals shortstop and Rick was invited to the 2005 All-Star Game to assist Manager Tony La Russa's staff.

Eckstein spent the last three seasons in the Nationals organization, most recently in 2006 as hitting coach for the Triple-A New Orleans Zephyrs. He also served as bullpen coach for Team USA during the inaugural World Baseball Classic prior to the 2006 season. In his first season at the helm, Mitchell guided the Swing to the postseason thanks to a second-half division title and 42-27 second-half record. Mitchell blended young talent with an infusion of key mid-season additions from the draft as the club finished 76-61 (.555) overall. The Swing offense led the Midwest League with a .272 team batting average that was five points higher than the second place finisher while the pitching staff compiled a 3.45 ERA, which ranked fourth in the league.

He was selected by the Braves in the fourth round of the 1987 draft and batted .318 in 48 games in his debut season of 1991. He appeared in five games in the National League Championship series that season and three World Series games as the Braves fell to the Twins in seven games.

He finished up his pro career at Sioux Falls of the independent Northern League in 2003 and batted .260 in 27 games.

MARK DeJOHN — MANAGER

DeJohn begins his third season as the manager for St. Louis' short-season entry in the New York-Penn League. Last season, he guided State College to a 39-36 record in the franchise's inaugural season. He led the Cardinals Double-A affiliate to the playoffs from 2002-2004, the last two years with Tennessee and in 2002 with New Haven. Prior to becoming a minor league manager, DeJohn had served as a coach at the Major League level from 1996-2001. He was the organization's minor league field coordinator for three seasons and managed in the Cardinals' farm system from 1986 to 1991. He also managed and coached in Detroit's and Kansas City's minor league organizations.

DeJohn was drafted by the New York Mets in 1971 and played in their system through the 1977 season. He signed with the Detroit Tigers in 1978 and reached the major leagues with the Tigers in 1982. DeJohn made the transition from player to coach in 1983, serving as a minor league instructor for the Tigers. He then coached at Kansas City's Eugene affiliate in 1985, but returned to Detroit midway through the season to manage the Tigers' Birmingham club.

DeJohn joined the Cardinals' organization in 1986, managing the Savannah Cardinals to a 75-60 record. He spent two seasons in Savannah before taking the helm of the Midwest League's Springfield Cardinals in 1988. The next year he was named manager of Johnson City where he spent two seasons. DeJohn managed Detroit's Class AA London affiliate in 1992 before returning to the Cardinals' organization in 1993.

DeJohn, 53, attended Woodrow Wilson High School in Middletown, Conn. He has two children, Timothy and Stephanie, and resides in New Britain, Conn.

MIKE SHILDT — POSITION COACH

Mike Shildt will serve as position coach at Batavia in addition to keeping area-scouting responsibilities, a duty he has performed the last four seasons with St. Louis. Officially, this is his second season as a coach within the Cardinals organization, though he did consult and provide instruction for the New Jersey Cardinals in 2004 and 2005.

Prior to joining the Cardinals organization, Shildt worked three years as an associate scout for the Major League Scouting Bureau. Shildt, 38, has five years of collegiate coaching under his belt split between stops at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte and University of North Carolina at Asheville. He also owned & operated On Deck, Baseball Academy in Pineville, NC, training many major and minor league players for four years.

He went on to pitch 10 seasons with Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Philadelphia, California and the New York Yankees. He pitched for the Phillies during the League Championship and World Series in 1983, a season in which he was 8-4 in 68 appearances with a 2.26 ERA and 25 saves.

ENRIQUE BRITO — MANAGER

Brito moves into the skipper's role for the first-year club in the Gulf Coast League after serving as the Cardinals Latin American supevisor in the organization's scouting operation for the last eight years.

Brito is a baseball veteran, beginning in 1978 as a player when he signed with the Minnesota Twins. The infielder played two seasons in the Twins organization before beginning his scouting and coaching career in 1981 for the same club. He was employed by the Twins until 1999.

Brito is also currently the director of player development for the Tigres de Aragua in the Venezuelan Winter League. He has played a part in assembling a team that won its league three times and made trips to the Caribbean World Series on three occasions. He was instrumental in placing current Marlins player Miguel Cabrera on the Tigres de Aragua roster.

Brito and his wife of 26 years, Ingrid Rincones de Brito, have five children.

DENNIS MARTINEZ — PITCHING COACH

Martinez was named pitching coach for the Cardinals first-year Gulf Coast League entry at a press conference in his native Nicaragua on December 12, 2006. He brings impressive credentials to the organization due to a 23-year career as a pitcher from 1976-1998 for Baltimore, Montreal, Cleveland, Seattle and Atlanta.

Nicknamed "El Presidente," Martinez totaled 245 career wins, still tops among Latino pitchers. He appeared in four All-Star games while posting a 3.70 ERA in 692 career games. On July 28, 1991 while pitching for Montreal at Dodger Stadium, Martinez tossed baseball's 13th perfect game, a 2-0 win in which he struck out five.

Martinez, 52, assisted with Cardinals big-league camp prior to this season. He was recently a special assistant in the Orioles organization.

An icon in his native country, Martinez has met with Nicaragua's President Daniel Oretga and is involved with developing baseball in the Latin American country. He currently is working on building a proposal for a baseball academy in his hometown of Granada.

Martinez resides in Miami. One of his sons, Ricardo, is a pitcher at Nova Southeastern University in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

CARDINALS BROADCASTING

RADIO

KTRS Radio, St. Louis, will be in its second full season as the flagship station of the St. Louis Cardinals. The club boasts a network of 118 stations covering nine states. KTRS will broadcast all 2007 games and Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday spring training games with commentary by Mike Shannon and John Rooney.

TELEVISION

KSDK, St. Louis, will televise 21 regular-season games and two spring training games locally and to a network of 42 stations reaching eight states. Commentary will be provided by Jay Randolph and Rick Horton. FSN Midwest, a regional cable network, will televise 130 games and two spring training games. Commentary is provided by Joe Buck, Al Hrabosky and Dan McLaughlin.

MIKE SHANNON

Mike Shannon will be broadcasting his 36th season on the Cardinals radio network. Throughout his years as a broadcastor for the Cardinals, Shannon has also made appearances for the Cardinals television broadcasts, including as a pre-game analyst for FSN Midwest.

A St. Louis native, Shannon broke into the big leagues with the Cardinals in 1962 and became the Cardinals' regular right fielder during the 1964 World Championship season. During the 1964 Series opener vs. New York, Shannon hit a game-tying, two-run homer off Whitey Ford as St. Louis went on to defeat the Yankees in seven games. In 1967 Shannon was moved to third base to make room for newly acquired right fielder Roger Maris, as the Cardinals went on to win two straight National League pennants in 1967 and '68 as well as the 1967 World Series. His home run off Boston's Gary Bell was the key blow in Game 3 of the 1967 Series and his solo shot in Game 7 of the 1968 Series was the Cardinals only run off Mickey Lolich as the Tigers clinched the Series.

His career was cut short by nephritis, a kidney disease, in 1970. He joined the Cardinals front office in 1971 as assistant director of promotions and sales and entered the broadcast booth in 1972, where he has remained. His many years with the organization give Shannon a unique insight in his commentary.

In 1999, Shannon was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in recognition of his popularity and performance on the air and as a player on the field. A few of the numerous awards and honors Shannon has received throughout his career include the Missouri prep Player of the Year in 1957 for basketball and football - the only player ever to receive both in the same year, St. Louis Ambassador's 1993 Sportsman of the Year, St. Louis Variety Club 1996 Champion for Kids and the 1985 Emmy Award for Sports Broadcasting, St. Louis chapter.

Mike, 67, resides in Illinois with his wife, Judy. The couple have six children and eight grandchildren.

JOHN ROONEY

John Rooney is in his second year of broadcasting Cardinals games with partner Mike Shannon. Rooney, a Richmond, Mo. native, came to St. Louis from the Chicago White Sox where he spent 18 years (1988-2005) - one in TV and 17 seasons following in the radio booth. The Cardinals World Championship crown in 2006 has given John the privalege of working with the World Champion team in back-to-back seasons, following the White Sox win in 2005.

Rooney, 51, called his first major league game in 1983 with Shannon and Hall of Fame Broadcaster Jack Buck during a three-game series between the Cardinals and host Cincinnati Reds. He began his baseball broadcasting career at the class AAA level, spending the 1981-82 seasons with the Oklahoma 89ers and the 1983-84 campaigns with the Louisville Redbirds. John juggled two stints in the 1980's as a sports reporter for KMOX around his baseball broadcasting and also called University of Missouri basketball games for 20 seasons. His major league baseball radio assignments have included the Division Series (1995-97, 2002-03), League Championship Series (1987-97), All-Star Games (1990-1997), World Series (1987-97), and the FOX Saturday afternoon "Game of the Week" (1996-98). John also has broadcast several college football bowls as well as the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, including the Final Four (1984-2002).

Rooney was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in February 2004. He and his wife, Susan, have two daughters, Colleen and Rachel.

JOE BUCK

Joe Buck will handle play-by-play duties on selected home games telecast by FSN Midwest for his sixth season. He also continues his duties as Fox Sports' lead baseball announcer for national telecasts.

Buck, who turns 38 on April 25, joined the Cardinals' radio team in 1991 after spending two seasons as the play-by-play voice of the Louisville Redbirds. He was part of the radio broadcasts through the 2001 season. He also has handled play-by-play on Cardinals television broadcasts for both KPLR-TV and Prime.

In 2002 Buck became the play-by-play voice for Fox NFL's No. 1 broadcast team, becoming the first play-by-play announcer to handle lead MLB and NFL coverage since ABC's Al Michaels in the 1980s. Buck has called the World Series for Fox nine times (1996, 1998, 2000-2006), seven MLB All-Star games (1997, 1999, 2001-2006) and two Super Bowls (2005-06). He has been honored three times with a sports Emmy as the Outstanding Sports Personality for play-by-play (1999, 2001-2002).

The son of broadcasting legend Jack Buck, Joe is a graduate of Country Day High School in St. Louis. He graduated from Indiana University with a B.A. in English in 1991. Joe and his wife Ann were married in January 1993, and make their home in St. Louis with their two daughters, Natalie and Trudy.

AL HRABOSKY

Al Hrabosky will be calling games on Cardinals telecasts this year for his 23rd season. It marks his 11th straight-season in his role as color commentator on FSN Midwest. He began working as a commentator on telecasts for the team in 1985 and through the years has worked for Fox Sports Midwest, WB11, Prime and Sportstime cable.

Hrabosky made a smooth transition from one of St. Louis' best-loved athletes, the "Mad Hungarian" of the Cardinals 1970's bullpen, to one of the town's favorite broadcasters. During a 13-year major league career in which he compiled 97 saves and earned Fireman of the Year honors in 1975, Hrabosky already was preparing himself for broadcasting by working as a sportscaster for a St. Louis TV station.

Hrabosky, 57, was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in February 2003. Away from the booth Hrabosky is active in many charities, including the Health Careers Foundation. He participates in the Cardinals Legend Camp each off-season and hosts an annual golf tournament, "The Mad Hungarian Legends Classic" with the Health Careers Foundation a beneficiary of both. In September 2004 he helped open "Al Hrabosky's Ballpark Saloon" just south of Busch Stadium. He and his wife, June, reside in St. Louis.

DAN McLAUGHLIN

Dan McLaughlin enters his ninth year as the play-by-play voice for Cardinals television broadcasts. He covers all road games and several home games on FSN Midwest, as well as serving as a pre-game host and analyst on FSN broadcasts. Dan has also filled in on Cardinals radio broadcasts.

During the baseball off-season, McLaughlin, 33, has worked 11 years as a regular on St. Louis Blues telecasts on FSN Midwest and CW11, and has also been a pregame, intermission and postgame analyst for Blues radio broadcasts. He has also served as a television play-by-play voice for the University of Missouri men's basketball team, Missouri Valley Conference and the Mid-Continent Conference. Dan is a regular contributor to the national magazine show "Fox Sports Net Across America."

Before joining the Cardinals, McLaughlin did baseball play-by-play at the collegiate level. A 1996 graduate of Lindenwood College, he began his professional broadcasting career in 1996 as a sports talk show host at KMOX Radio.

McLaughlin is involved in several local charities as well as hosting "The Dan McLaughlin Golf Tournament to benefit the Special Education Foundation". Dan and his wife, Libby, make their home in St. Louis and have one son, Luke Michael (7/12/05).

JAY RANDOLPH

Jay Randolph returns to the Cardinals broadcast booth this season to call games on KSDK TV, just as he did previously from 1973-1987. He also worked alongside Johnny Bench in 1988 for Cincinnati Reds telecasts and in 1993-2001 for the Florida Marlins as the first television play-by-play voice for the organization.

Golf was Randolph's first passion as he won several amateur championships in the late '50's. He bagan his career in broadcasting, however, in 1958 taking the job of sports and promotion director at WHAR-Radio in Clarksburg, WV. After five years in West Virginia and two years in Dallas with the Cowboys and Southern Methodist University, he joined KMOX in Saint Louis in 1966 to call the football Cardinals and be the original television voice of the St. Louis Blues. In 1968 he became Sports Director and anchor for KSDK (NBC-TV). Over 28 years with KSDK, Randolph did play-by-play for the NFL, college football, PGA Tour, PGA Champions Tour, LPGA, Major League Baseball's Game of the Week, Pro Bowler's Tour, three Olympic Games and the NCAA Basketball Tournament. He hosted the nationally syndicated "The Golf Show" in the late 1980's and early 90's and for 22 years was lead announcer for the Big 8 Basketball Network. Most recently, he broadcast the PGA Champions Tour tournaments on CNBC from 2000 through 2003.

In August 2006 he received Delta Tau Delta Alumni Achievement award at their convention in Indianapolis. Randolph was inducted into the Texas Radio Hall of Fame in January 2005 and into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mo. this February. He and his wife, Sue, reside in St. Louis and have three children, Jay, Brian and Rebecca, and two grandchildren, Jennings and Grace.

RICK HORTON

Rick Horton will provided color commentary on all KSDK broadcasts just as he has done for three previous season on KPLR telecasts. He was a co-anchor on the WB11 post-game show, Extra Innings, in 2003 and served as a baseball analyst for FSN Midwest. Horton has filled in on KMOX Radio and Cardinals television broadcasts since 1997.

A former left-handed pitcher for the Cardinals, Rick spent seven years in the Major Leagues, playing for St. Louis, Los Angeles and the Chicago White Sox. He made his Major League debut with the Cardinals in 1984 and participated in the 1985 and 1987 World Series with the Redbirds and won the Series in 1988 while with the Dodgers. Horton was both a starter and relief pitcher for the club and had one of his best years in 1987 when he was 8-3 in 67 games, pitching 125 innings with 55 strikeouts. In 1991, he spent the season as a pitching coach in the Cleveland Indians minor league system.

After retiring from his Major League playing career, Horton remained in the St. Louis area where he has been active in the Greater St. Louis Area Fellowship of Christian Athletes, serving as the Director of the St. Louis FCA since 1993. Horton has assisted with Baseball Chapel with the Cardinals and also works with the St. Louis Rams football team in leading chapel and Bible studies.

Horton, 47, and his wife, Ann, reside in St. Louis with their two children, Jen, 20, and Drew, 16.

CARDINALS SPRING TRAINING
ROGER DEAN STADIUM - JUPITER, FLORIDA

Cardinals Complex
4795 University Blvd.
Jupiter, Fla., 33458
561-775-1818

The Cardinals will be in their 10th season training in Jupiter, Fla., after moving from St. Petersburg, Fla. in 1998. The team conducts spring workouts at the Roger Dean Stadium Complex, a $28 million facility specially designed to house two Major League Baseball teams. Roger Dean is the only stadium in Florida to host two spring training teams as the complex is shared with the Florida Marlins franchise. The Stadium is owned by Jupiter Stadium Limited and operated by the Florida Marlins and St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals Complex consists of six practice fields along with club offices and a spacious clubhouse for both the major league and minor league players. The Florida Marlins have a duplicate setup on the opposite side of the complex. The main stadium can accommodate approximately 7,000 fans. The ballpark features field box, loge box, bleacher, grass berm and luxury skybox seating along with concessions and parking.

Roger Dean Stadium is the only one in the country that hosts two minor league teams on a permanent basis. The Cardinals Single-A affiliate, the Palm Beach Cardinals, calls Roger Dean Stadium home as a member of the Florida State League along with the Florida Marlins Single-A club, the Jupiter Hammerheads.

St. Louis plays at least 15 home games each year during spring training. Workouts begin approximately 9 a.m. and last until 1 p.m. each day before games begin, and are from 9 a.m. until noon once spring games start. Fans are welcome to observe workouts.

Roger Dean Stadium is located on approximately 110 acres within the Abacoa Community. Abacoa is located on Donald Ross Road, approximately 1-1/2 miles east of Interstate 95.

Funding for the Cardinals Care Redbird Rookies program is a result of the cooperation and generous support from Cardinals players, the Cardinals ownership group and the many fans who participate in numerous Cardinals Care activities, along with the many sponsors and donors who have contributed generously. An $800,000 donation over five years from the Saigh Foundation will help fund many of the health and education aspects of Redbird Rookies and nostalgically reconnects the Cardinals with Fred Saigh, who owned the team in the 1940's and 1950's. In addition, Rawlings has discounted or donated the uniforms, bats, balls, gloves and other equipment, and Outdoor Cap generously provided hats.

Building Community Through Neighborhood Ballfields

In an effort to assist in the revitalization of communities throughout our region, Cardinals Care works with the community to identify the neediest neighborhoods. By building ballfields within these neighborhoods, it gives our youth the chance to play ball on a regulation diamond.

One special Cardinal Care ballfield was specifically designed and constructed for kids in wheelchairs.

Building Community Through Player Involvement

Players who give their time and energy are a bright spot in the lives of many kids. Player involvement is essential to Cardinals Care success. To the left, first baseman Albert Pujols and pitchers Chris Carpenter and Braden Looper greet a young patient at Shriner's Hospital - St. Louis.

Building Community Through Outreach

The Winter Warm-Up, Mike Shannon's Celebrity Waiter Dinner and Jerseys Off Our Backs are fundraising events to benefit Cardinals Care. Cardinals Care relies on the generosity of Cardinal players, fans, hundreds of volunteers and many others to make each of these events a success.

Families, friends and individual fans gather at the Winter Warm-Up creating baseball memories and supporting Cardinals Care.

Building Community Through Fredbird's "Doin' It Right" School Program

You don't have to do Drugs! Stay in School! Participate in Sports and Stay Fit! These are the three important parts that more than a quarter of a million students have heard from former players Joe Cunningham, Al Hrabosky, Andy Benes and team mascot, Fredbird, as part of the Cardinals' School Program. The traveling, no-cost program entertains students and reminds them of life's important goals.

Building Community Through Player Ticket Programs

For many years, fans have become accustomed to seeing Manager Tony LaRussa talking with a group of kids in the Cardinals Dugout as part of "Tony's Troops". The Cardinals' manager takes time out of his pre-game preparation to talk with children about what it takes to succeed in baseball and in life. After posing questions to the Cardinals' manager, the group has dinner before watching the game, compliments of Cardinals Care. The program targets children who may lack resources to attend a baseball game.

Building Community Through Grants to Youth Organizations

Cardinals Care has been funding youth organizations and neighborhood ballfields with cash grants since 1997.
